New steel contract begins Wednesday

Thousands of employees of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. will get pay raises Wednesday under a new three-year contract between the United Steelworkers of America and major steel manufacturers.

The basic steel settlement for the year beginning Wednesday calls for a 28-cent hourly wage increase, with a two-tenths cent hike in increment between job classes.

A two-job class trade and craft additive amounts to 19.5 cents for certain job classes among incentive workers.

Also effective May 1, a 39-cent cost-of-living adjustment which became payable Feb. 1 will be included in the standard hourly wage rate for non-incentive jobs and the hourly additive for incentive jobs.

The May 1 adjustment, which was to be calculated under the old formula, will be calculated instead on new and improved cost-of-living formula, as will all future quarterly adjustments.

The revised formula provides for a one-cent hourly raise for each three-tenths of a point increase in the consumer price index (1967 equals 100). The base for all adjustments is the December 1973 index of 195.5.

Until they are "rolled into" the standard hourly wage rate scale, cost-of-living allowances will be applied as pay for hours worked, and for overtime and reporting pay purposes.

The one-time Experimental Negotiating Agreement bonus is to be paid this year. Each employee as of Aug. 1 will be paid $150 extra in the pay period next closed and calculated after Sept. 30.

Sickness and accident benefits effective Aug. 1 will be increased from $17 and $20, increasing the present $87-$129 range to $104-$149.

Also as of Aug. 1, the maximum weekly supplemental unemployment benefit will rise to $100 a week (from $82.50) for weeks in which workers receive unemployment compensation, and $135 weekly (increased from $110) for other weeks.

Up to two weeks of short work week benefits and up to two weeks of weekly benefits may be received for layoffs due to shutdowns resulting from pollution or a fuel or energy shortage, under terms of the new pact.

The rate of pay for holidays worked is increased from two and a quarter times to two and a half times, effective Jan. 1, 1975.

The vacation bonus schedule is increased from $30, $40 and $50 to $30-$50-$75 as of next Jan. 1.

In the second year of the new agreement, effective Aug. 1, 1975, there will be a 16-cent hourly general wage increase and a three-tenths-cent boost in

Track agreement 3 days after fire destroys stands

Three days after a spectacular fire caused $5 million to $6 million damage at 2:45 p.m. Thursday at the Fairmount Park Race Track on Highway 40 near Collinsville in Madison County, an agreement was reached yesterday between the track and horse owners on terms for the 75-day 1974 racing season.

The track cannot be ready for a year or two if rebuilt, but there may be talks on using Cahokia Downs through July. The St. Clair County track is scheduled to begin its season in early August.

Oldest horse race track in Southern Illinois, Fairmount was established in 1925 under the auspices of famed Churchill Downs and Col. Matt Winn. It pioneered in night harness racing and then night thoroughbred races and was extensively modernized in 1966.

Flames apparently originating in the ceiling of the battery room spread to the roofed grandstand and quickly engulfed it, feeding on wood and tar paper in the structure.

Damage to the club house was limited to several broken windows and some water on the floor, but the fire destroyed some offices, the apartment of General Manager Edwin C. Moon, a paddock area, storage facilities and 90 of the 120 totalisator machines used to compute wagering, odds and trifecta betting.

The Long Lake volunteer fire department from Pontoon Beach also was among those responding to the alarm. (Fischer Photo)

Could local ground water help convert state coal reserve?

In response to a suggestion by Cong. Melvin Price, the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development has termed "promising" the possibility of using subsurface water in the East St. Louis-Granite City area to meet the requirements for development of coal conversion facilities.

The water would be used in a coal gasification and liquefaction process, Price said.

Howard Fricke, the department director, informed the local congressman that "the Illinois Water Survey and Geological Survey have been working cooperatively in the development of data pertaining to the availability of water and coal reserves relative to their linkage for coal conversion.

"The water aspect of this work has been completed. The coal aspect is, nearing completion."

Rep. Price said such water could become important in utilizing Southern Illinois' vast coal resources to meet the nation's energy needs. "In addition," he said, "such a plan might help alleviate the area's high water table problems."

The congressman said production could begin five to eight years after a decision to go ahead with development.

No one will call meeting on school strike in Venice

A strike that closed the Venice grade and high school last Monday ended its second week today. Teachers seek a raise of $485 to $588 for the 1973-74 year over the $8,095-$14,800 schedule and the school district has offered a $200 bonus.

No meetings have taken place since the picketing began, and both sides indicated they are waiting for the other to initiate new negotiations.

All parties voice willingness to talk but not to call a meeting to do so.

Seven fire departments, including Long Lake volunteer firemen, fought the blaze for several hours and some firefighters were still on the scene Friday dousing the smoldering ruins. Over 1,000 horses stabled at the track were in an area not threatened by the fire.

The racing meet at Fairmount had been scheduled to start April 16 but was delayed due to a dispute over the amount of the revenue going to horse owners. Both horsemen

'Y' benefit

The Tri-Cities Area YMCA, a United Way agency, will present its first annual benefit variety show, "Our Gang," at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at Granite City High School Auditorium.

The public is invited to attend and tickets are available in advance, costing $2 for adults and $1 for students, at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., or Mendoza Sporting Goods Store.

Several outstanding groups will appear in the one-night performance, including members of the Performing Arts Training Center Dance Company under the direction of Christine Dunham, an internationally known dance artist.

"Our Gang" is being directed by Hank Lamb and Norma Mendoza and is being produced by the YMCA staff in cooperation with the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and the East Bank Players, the Quad-Cities theatrical company.

All groups appearing in the benefit show are performing without fee, Mike Tharp of the Y staff advised.

The cast includes: The Little City High School Orchestra directed by Marianna Sporic and accompanied by the Balalaika Orchestra directed by Father Vladimir Lecko; Los Primas and the Mexican Folk Dancers with Jim Segobiano and Connie Becerra; Eagleaires Kitchen Band directed by Mrs. Angie Buehler.

Cahokia Mounds Indian Dancers, directed by Frank Joachimsthaler; St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Dance Group under the leadership of Katherine Varadian; The Irish Dancers of East St. Louis, accompanied and directed by Police Captain Cornelius O'Sullivan; The Marge Salem Dance School, directed by Marge Salem; Happy Strings Tamburitans, directed by Tom Kelam and Ms. Dunham's versatile dance group.

Ford, Percy may clash in primary

By KEN WATSON

Statehouse speculation is suddenly soaring about a 1976 Illinois presidential primary battle between Vice President Gerald Ford and U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy.

Opinions are already being expressed that the outcome could even determine the Republican choice for president.

That the next Illinois presidential primary will be far more significant than any in the past has long been taken for granted due to the emergence of Percy as a determined contender for the nomination.

It has also been generally assumed that Percy, who has some influential opposition in the top levels of the Illinois

Republican party, could not expect a free ride in his home state.

But up to a few months ago the only major rivals appeared to be Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller over New York. But both have made trial sorties into Illinois in past presidential years and failed to stir up any great enthusiasm.

Even confirmed anti-Percy Republicans have conceded privately that he would probably clober either Reagan or Rockefeller in a head-to-head confrontation.

But now the anti-Percy GOP faction has a new champion and one clearly recognized by the Percy people as a formidable one—Vice President Ford.

Not only would Ford con-

FBI agent to speak at Elks law-order dinner

Joseph E. Ziel, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Springfield office, will be guest speaker at the fourth annual "Police Recognition Banquet" to be sponsored by Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 15.

Clyde F. Mertz, Elks law and order committee chairman, said reservations are being accepted through Sunday on a first come, first serve basis.

Tickets costing $7.50 each are available in a limited number with attendance restricted to 220 persons. They will be obtained by calling the Elks lodge at 876-1623 or Mertz at 877-8439.

Area business firms interested in sponsoring a local policeman and his wife to the steak dinner are invited to contact Mertz or Don Watson,

Elks exalted ruler.

A native of Chicago where he received his early education, Ziel entered the FBI in a clerical capacity on June 22, 1942. He served in the U. S. Navy from June 1943 until December 1945 and returned to duty in the FBI's Chicago office the following month.

Ziel received a bachelor of science degree at Loyola University, Chicago, in 1949. He was appointed a special agent

Block luxury mobile homes

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night voted not to allow 14-foot-wide mobile homes to be placed in a Park Lane development in the village.

The area first was planned for modular homes, but unavailability of FHA and VHA financing for prospective buyers of the homes presented a problem after streets and underground electrical and sewage installations were completed.

Floyd David Moss, president of the village board, commented he understood the financing was not approved "because the homes would be over-improving the area. I do not think that is a fair assessment," he said.

Moss said the 14-foot-wide mobile homes were proposed by the developer because they were the largest and most luxurious available. "I believe the village board's rejection of the 14-foot-wide mobile homes indicates they will not approve any mobile homes for that area," he said.

A letter was read from Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab, consulting engineers indicating two property owners must move their fences from between Victoria and Pontonsauville drives so a swail-type drainage system can be completed there.

Picketing at Colonial Haven Home

Forty-three employees of the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Stearns Ave., remained on strike today in a dispute over recognition of Local 50 of the Service Employees' International Union, AFL-CIO, as their bargaining agent.

The strike began Saturday after the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board at St. Louis dismissed a petition by the employees for an election on a proposal to declare Local 50 as the employees' bargaining agent.

Jim Potterson, field representative of Local 50, told the Press-Record that the NLRB ruling by the regional office will be appealed to Washington.

Team approach to fight drug pushers

Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman of the 3rd Judicial Circuit of Illinois chaired a 30-hour Intergovernmental Conference at Pere Marquette Lodge through Thursday.

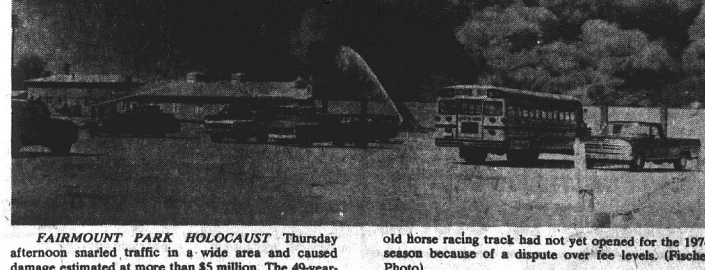

Of the more than 50 in attendance, there were police officers from 16 departments in Madison and Bond Counties, members of the state's attorney office, public defender's office, probation department and circuit judges.

The object of the training program was to develop a "team enforcement ability" to fight drug pushers in area communities.

Instructors from the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, Cook County State's Attorney Office, Federal Drug Enforcement Agency, Illinois Dangerous Drugs Council and the Southwestern Illinois Crime Prevention Council contributed their time and experience to conduct the training.

The conference was coordinated by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, with funding assistance from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

next 15 years, and from $10 to $14 for each year of service over 30.

This means that a 30-year employee who previously would receive a $265 monthly pension will now receive $382.50 unless he qualifies for a higher pension under a percentage formula.

The latter formula will be calculated on average earnings of the highest 60 consecutive months within the last 120, instead of utilizing the average of the last 120. And the 39-cent cost-of-living adjustment rolled into wage rates this Wednesday will be included in determining average earnings for pensions on the program going into effect Aug. 1, 1975.

A five per cent retroactive inflation adjustment to reflect the cost of living costs will begin August 1976.

Employees retiring because of prolonged layoffs will receive full pensions for life, an inflation adjustment and, until age 62, an extra $230 a month.

For disability pensioners, the $230 supplement will be payable for any month in which unreduced Social Security benefits are not received until age 62.

The surviving spouse's benefit has been improved by eliminating all age requirements for the active employee or retiree at the time of death and by ending the one-half per cent per year reduction for years by which the survivor is under age 30.

Those who retired under prior agreements, including the most recent one, will receive substantial increases.

Discharged employees are no longer disqualified from eligibility for a deferred vested pension.

Also under the second year of the new three-year contract, a pre-paid dental program will go into effect at no cost to workers. It will cover employees and dependents.

Production and maintenance workers with 17 years of service will receive four weeks of regular vacation effective Jan. 1, 1976. Office and technical employees with 15 or more years of service will receive four weeks of vacation as of the same date.

For the first time, effective Aug. 1, 1975, there will be a comprehensive company-paid program of medical insurance covering past and future retirees and their dependents, except where eligible for Medicare.

The medical care program for active employees also will be improved beginning Aug. 1, 1975.

In the third year of the new agreement, effective Aug. 1, 1976, there will be a general wage boost of 16 cents an hour, plus four-tenths of a cent more in increment between job classes.

There will be a third living cost roll-in, and an additional paid holiday to be designated later.

The 28-16-16 raises and the three increases in increments all go into the incentive calculation rate; cost-of-living adjustments are not included in the calculation rate.

This means that an incentive employee in Job Class 10 will receive a total increase of 67.2 cents in his incentive calculation rate over the term of the contract.

In the third year, sickness-accident weekly benefits reach $114-$159.

Production-maintenance workers with 23 years of service (and office-technical employees with 23 or more) will receive five weeks of regular vacation effective Jan. 1, 1977.

For office and technical employees, contributions to the service bonus plan will rise from 10 to 20 cents hourly for all hours worked, effective Aug. 1, 1974. Those on non-incentive jobs who have five or more years of continuous service will get a bonus of 10 cents per hour as an add-on.

Grandparents and grandchildren have been added as relatives to the funeral leave section.

In job classes 1 to 33, the hourly rate of $3.68 to $6.67 will become $4.305-$7.405 Wednesday, $4.465-$7.558 Aug. 1, 1975, and $4.625-$7.712 Aug. 1, 1976, for non-incentive jobs.

BRIDGE ACCIDENT
James Cox, 37, of Nashville, Ill., and J. T. Spright, 33, St. Louis, a passenger in his car, were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5 a.m. Saturday for treatment of injuries sustained when their car hit a concrete abutment on the east side of the McKinley bridge super structure. Cox suffered lacerations to the nose, upper lip, chin, left wrist and both knees. Spright suffered bruises to the right thigh and hip.

The village attorney was proposed to prepare a written policy allowing full-time police dispatches vacation and sick leave time after one year of service. The policy is to be presented to the board at a subsequent meeting for consideration.

An amended lease for the village hall was approved which includes an increase in the monthly rent from $450 to $500. The board previously had asked that the lease be amended to allow the village to lease offices to other governmental units.

A request for permission to place a modular home at 3842 Lake St., was referred by the board to the zoning board for a public hearing and study.

The board requested its attorney to send notices to Illini Federal Savings & Loan Assn., notifying the organization that it presently owns nine houses in the village which are presenting a health hazard. The savings and loan also is to be notified of standing water in the Gaslight Walk area, which the organization also controls.

The owner of a home in the 4100 block of Kaseberg Lane was notified by letter of a violation of the health ordinance concerning his home, the board was told. The owner was ordered to repair or demolish the structure.

A request from the Madison County licensing committee was read, asking the village to send the county copies of all business licensing regulations in effect in the village. The committee is studying business licensing throughout the county.

Ford, Percy

stipulate a major home-ground challenge to Percy, but there are indications he might well consider making a primary run in Illinois.

The announcement that Ford will be the featured speaker at the 1974 fund-raising dinner for state senate candidates at Chicago on July 26 was interpreted at the Statehouse as a direct move to blunt the Percy presidential drive in his own state.

The fact that Ford was invited by Senate President William C. Harris of Pontiac is considered significant. The Illinois Senate has for years been the citadel of Republican conservatism in Illinois.

Few Republican senators, including Harris, are enthusiastic about Percy, and the prospect of him ever reaching the White House causes more than a few to shudder.

In Springfield, significance is also attached to the timing of the Harris-Ford announcement. It comes less than a week after Percy strategists in Washington announced an $11-million, 30-month campaign to win him the 1976 nomination.

His plans call for stepped-up speaking appearances concentrating on some 32 states counted on to provide about two-thirds of the convention delegates.

Top Percy aides have stressed to newsmen that he will stay clear of the March primary in New Hampshire, a frequent battle ground for presidential hopefuls.

It also indicated he will by pass the Florida primary and make his first big run in home-state Illinois in March.

This strategy is also predicated on the belief that efforts to move the Illinois primary from March to June will fail in the legislature.

A possible Percy-Ford confrontation could be an added factor against a change. Legislative Democrats could not be expected to provide the votes that would head off any possible divisive Republican fight in a general election year.

How would a Percy-Ford race come out? It's hard to tell at the stage, but one can go back 10 years for a possible clue.

In 1964, Percy, a relative unknown, was challenged in the gubernatorial primary by late senator William J. Scott, then state treasurer and now attorney general.

Entering the race reluctantly as a replacement of the ailing Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, Scott lost to Percy, 638,111 to 388,063, a Percy plurality of 249,048.

Ford would be taking a big risk in challenging Percy in Illinois. But, if he becomes President in the meantime, Ford would be almost unbeatable in GOP primaries.

Developments between now and the December 1975 filing period will no doubt influence Ford's and Percy's eventual plans and decisions.

New executive vice-president

Donald E. Van Horn, formerly president of the Bank of Cahokia, has been named to the staff of the American National Bank as executive vice-president. It was announced by Henry D. Karandjoff, chairman of the board. He will assume his new duties at the American National Bank May 1.

Van Horn, 44, has been associated with the Bank of Cahokia for 11 years. He attended Belleville Area College and the University of Illinois Extension School.

During his banking career, he has attended the American Institute of Banking in St. Louis. He now lives in Belleville with his wife and two children.

As soon as he can find a home, Van Horn will move his family to Granite City.

Bill Lee, 42, of Rural Route One, Caseyville, was pum water in the radiator of his truck at the Spartan Service Station, 2905 Edwardsville Road, at 4:30 p.m. Friday, when an auto driven by Carl Lambird, Collinsville, backed into the truck, pinning Lee between the two vehicles.

Lee was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for an injured left leg and knee. A cast was applied to the knee. He was released.

New medical center planned

Plans for a new major medical center in the vicinity of the Colonial Haven Nursing Home between Pontoon Road and Buenger Avenue were disclosed as application was made to the Granite City Board of Education for a right-of-way to provide a sewer for the facility.

The school board was told, "A group of local doctors are proposing to build a medical center on a tract of land north and east of the property owned by the school district" on which the vocational education department is building a house (on Clark Avenue).

The school board granted a five-foot easement along the eastern property line of the lot for a sewer. "It is presently contemplated that a six to eight inch line will be placed in said easement," the board was told.

A spokesman for the group of doctors declined to name those involved but said engineering still is continuing and no definite plans for the facility have been made.

Police captain dies of cancer

East St. Louis Police Captain Roosevelt Brown, 44, a former Granite City Army Installation employee, died of cancer Saturday at Tijuana, Mexico. He had been undergoing treatment for cancer for some time and had traveled by plane to Mexico Thursday for special treatment.

A past president of the Illinois Juvenile Officers' Association, Capt. Brown joined the East St. Louis Police Department in May 1957 after working five years at the Granite City Army base. He presently was serving as commander of the department's Support Services Division and formerly headed the juvenile section.

Capt. Brown is survived by his wife, Mrs. Osse Lynne Brown; a daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Mallett; two sisters and four brothers.

Funeral services will be at noon Thursday at the Mount Zion Baptist Church in East St. Louis. Burial will be in the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Two from area on advisory unit

Harold E. Eitelmans to become missionaries in Africa

The Rev. Ray W. Eitelman, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Granite City for the past three-and-a-half years, and his wife, Patsy, have been appointed as missionaries to the west African country of Upper Volta.

They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in services at Robinson Auditorium in Little Rock, Ark., earlier this month.

In the mission field, the Rev. Eitelman will assume the responsibility of agricultural specialist and field evangelist. His work will consist of teaching improved agricultural practices to the many rural families who are subsistence farmers or who raise livestock.

Ninety-five per cent of the 5,611,000 people in Upper Volta live in the rural areas and engage in agriculture.

The minister also will work to establish Christian fellowships and churches among the people. The majority of the people are animists who worship the elemental spirits in created things. About 20 per cent are Muslims by faith.

Ray and Patsy Eitelman are natives of Texas where he received his degree in agriculture from Texas Tech University, served as assistant county agricultural agent in VanZand County for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service and was manager of the famed, old T-Bar Ranch at Tahota, Tex.

The Baptist pastor left the 45,000 acre T-Bar Ranch to prepare for the ministry at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex., where he received a degree in theology. He then served as pastor of Empire Street Baptist Church in Cortez, Colo., for three years before coming to the First Baptist Church of Granite City.

The Rev. and Mrs. Eitelman with their two daughters, Laura, 11 years, and Julie, 10, plan to leave Granite City in August for three months missionary orientation at Pine Mountain, Ga.

They will then leave the country for a year of language school in Tours, France. Upon leaving France they will proceed to their mission station in Koudougou, Upper Volta.

Koudougou, a town of 20,000 residents is located just 60 miles southwest of Ouagadougou, the capital and main city of Upper Volta. Ouagadougou has a population of 59,000.

The Eitelmans will live in rented quarters that will serve as a base of operations for their work in the surrounding area.

French is the official language, but More is the principal language spoken and also will have to be learned by the Eitelmans.

The couple, however, will not learn the More language in school, but in direct contact with the people, it was explained.

Laura and Julie Eitelman will go to boarding school in Accra, Ghana, about 600 miles away, or at Jos, Nigeria, roughly 1,000 miles distant from Koudougou.

The girls will have the two 6-week vacations a year when they can be with their parents. A few parental visits to the school are permitted during the school terms.

Julie and Laura will have missionary house-parents looking after their welfare while at school.

The separation of parents and daughters will be one of the greatest sacrifices the Eitelmans will be called upon to make in order to do the work they believe the Lord has called them to undertake, a spokesman for the family said.

Despite the prospects of enforced separation, both the Eitelmans and their children are anxiously looking forward to missionary service.

As career missionaries, they will spend four years out of the United States and one year back home on furlough. The five-year cycle will be repeated time-after-time until the couple is retirement age.

Mrs. Eitelman, the former Patsy Walker of Canton, Tex., attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Missouri Baptist College in St. Louis. She was employed as a bookkeeper and insurance rater for a Fort Worth firm before coming here.

The Republic of Upper Volta is an inland country about the size of Colorado. Formerly a French territory the nation gained its independence in 1960. Upper Volta lies between the tropical rain forests on the south and the Sahara Desert on the north. It is one of the five countries in West Africa that has been hit severely by drought and famine for the last five years.

Human suffering is very great in all these countries and death is common, especially among the small children, the minister said.

Travelers view Holy Land slides

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber entertained members of Travelers Abroad last week by showing an extensive collection of colored slides taken of the Holy Land which they toured in March.

The tour was led by the Rev. Roy Baugh, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Several Quad-City residents were included in the group.

Among the areas photographed by the Hubers were Jerusalem, Bethlehem, the Dead Sea, the Sea of Galilee, the Dead Sea scrolls, Mount of Olives, the Dome of the Rock, Mount Carmel and Tel Aviv.

In narrating the program, Huber commented on the tight security measures taken in Israel and also in Rome.

Gardenaires, GC students win honors

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer
Two Granite City High School juniors, Kathy Shemwell and Thomas McRaven, have been selected district winners in gardening competition sponsored by The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., and The National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. The contest was designed for high school students in the 10th through 12th grades.

Winners in the state-wide contest were announced at the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. The conference concluded last week at the Sheraton-Oak Brook Hotel in Chicago.

The Gardenaires Garden Club, which sponsored both young people, also was the recipient of several awards and was accorded recognition during the three-day meeting. High school students entering the competitive program were required to prepare speeches on the subject, "Trees Today for Life Tomorrow," and to select and plant a tree in their own community.

Entrants could select any phase of tree study which they considered most important to the well-being or betterment of the community or wildlife. Each contestant was sponsored by a federated garden club.

At the local level, the speeches were recorded on tapes and with typewritten copies were submitted to the State High School Gardeners chairman, Mrs. Jesse McDonald of Downers Grove, for judging by a qualified committee in the fields of ecology, conservation and speech.

Miss Shemwell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shemwell, 2500 Angela Drive, is a junior student at Granite City High School North.

McRaven, a junior student at Granite City High School South, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McRaven, 2621 Cleveland Blvd. The Granite City contestants were the only young people to win on the district level and will receive prizes of $18.75 each. Seven districts were eligible to compete in the contest.

Mike Barbara Mueller of Evanston, Ill., was the sole student to receive the top state award.

Competition at the state level was funded by the Illinois State Nurserymen's Association. The contest was the group's first effort to participate in such a program and a spokesman for the association since has advised that plans are being made to repeat the project on an annual basis.

Mrs. Earl Glenn and Mrs. Charles Kohl, delegates from the Gardenaires, accepted the Garden Club of Illinois' presidential citation of appreciation for the local club's work in sending various seeds to students in Brazil.

The Brazilian project was initiated by the Gardenaires to provide children with packets of vegetable, herb and other types of seeds to plant gardens on school property, thereby increasing the nutritive value of lunches served at the school.

Mrs. Glenn received a ribbon and special award won in the Chicago Garden and Flower Show, held March 23-31, for her collage entry on Environmental Improvement.

The National Garden Club Council has requested the collage be displayed at the council's convention May 12-16 in Boston, Mass. The request is an unusual honor for any garden club member, it was reported.

During the convention in Chicago, Mrs. Glenn was reappointed to a one-year term as chairman of the State Environmental Improvement program for the fourth year.

A certificate of merit was presented to the Gardenaires Club for distributing booklets, entitled "People and Their Environment," to schools.

The information booklets are used as guides by the teachers to become more acquainted with the subject and better relate the ideas to their students. Mrs. Kohl accepted the certificate on behalf of the club.

Among the highlights of the convention involving Mrs. Glenn was the surprise presentation of a life membership to the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., donated by her husband.

Donations for life memberships are added to a scholarship fund to which students interested in horticulture and advancing their education in that field may apply for assistance. To compete for a scholarship students are required to submit extensive information and material in various categories and be judged on a national basis.

Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Glenn were the only convention delegates from Granite City. Eleven representatives from area District Five garden clubs attended.

Spring social at Concordia

Concordia Lutheran Church women hosted their annual spring social Thursday, with approximately 160 guests attending.

A noon luncheon was served, followed by entertainment using the theme "TV 23," a satire on television programs and commercials.

Those presenting the program were Mesdames Lorraine Christ, chairman, and committee members, Wanda Lohmann, Dottie Hoffman, Marcella Rowold, Evelyn Johnson, Irma Wuehler and Pat Cuvar.

A display of quilts was exhibited by the women of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Fairview Heights, who will host a quilt fair May 7 and 8 at St. Paul's. The public is invited to attend the event, they announced.

MADISON JR. SERVICE AIDS BAND PARENTS
Mrs. Dorothy Smith, president of the Madison Junior Service Club, presented a $200 check to Mrs. Helen Christ, president of the Madison Band Parents, in a brief ceremony last week.

The funds will assist the organization in projects connected with the student musicians. The women's names were reversed in a photo appearing in Thursday's issue of the Press-Record.

Suit by Illinois on treatment funds expanded to 50 states

At the request of Pennsylvania and other states, Attorney General William J. Scott last week expanded — to include all the 50 states and all American territories — his original Illinois lawsuit to force the release of $19 million in antipollution funds frozen by the U. S. administration.

Approximately $16 million of that amount was earmarked for rural "have-not" areas of Illinois which lack sewage treatment facilities or whose systems are inadequate.

Scott amended a suit filed earlier, on April 1, in federal district court at Chicago to broaden that litigation into a class action suit in which Illinois is now suing the federal government in behalf of all 50 states, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa and the trust territory of the Pacific islands.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Mon., Apr. 29, 1974 Page 5

Scott took the action after Pennsylvania and other states indicated their support for the Illinois action to free the funds, and asked to be represented in the lawsuit.

The expanded suit thus puts the 50 states and all American territories against the federal government and the two principal defendants, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and Director of the Office of Management and Budget Roy L. Ash.

In his original suit, Scott underscored the assertion that, as a direct result of the federal "freeze" action, the $16 million for Illinois projects had died a fiscal death while the problems continued to worsen.

Scott said that many Illinois grant requests involve rural areas that have no sewage systems whatever.

He stressed that, in the past, antipollution fund grants have gone to those sectors — mainly urban areas — with larger and more severe problems in Illinois, to the neglect of rural and farm areas.

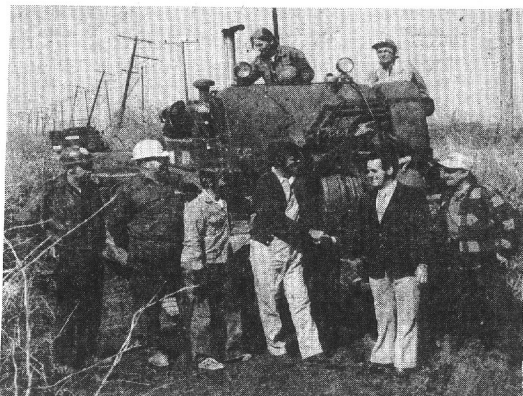

Scott charged that impoundment of the waste disposal funds was an improper exercise of authority by the secretary of Agriculture and director of the Office of Management and Budget, and amounted to the termination of a grant program mandated by Congress.

The Illinois attorney general also charged that the withholding of such funds showed a disregard in Washington of problems faced by citizens of the state living in rural areas.

The complaint asks that Ash and Butz be required to make grants for the financing of rural water and waste disposal systems in accordance with Congressional mandate.

BEFORE IMPROVEMENTS BEGAN, the Madison County Nature Trail from Pontoon Beach to Edwardsville was very rough. Improving of the trail was started last week by apprentices of Operating Engineers Local 520 under a training program, at no cost to the county. This view is from Lake Drive west and under the Highway 111 overpass. (Press-Record Photo)

Madison 'Walkathon' for March of Dimes

The Madison Junior Service club will sponsor a "walkathon" to aid the March of Dimes beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 5. Those wishing to help have been asked to contact Mrs.

Julia Voloski, 1610 Seventh St., Madison, phone 876-7759.

Mrs. Voloski, city chairman for the March of Dimes, is asking volunteers to pick up pledge cards and recruit sponsors who will pay the person a designated amount for each mile walked. All proceeds will go the March of Dimes.

GC buys two police cars

The Granite City Council has authorized purchase of two police cars from Granite City Dodge, the second lowest bidder, after B. E. Hohl, Inc., which submitted the lowest bid, notified city officials it would be unable to deliver two cars within time limits given in the specifications.

Hohl had bid $6,240 to furnish the two cars within a ten-day period. Last week the firm notified the council by letter that it could not meet the time specification.

Acting on a ruling by City Attorney George Filcuff that such action would be legal, the council approved the purchase of the Granite City Dodge bid of $7,590.

A third bid for furnishing two cars was submitted by Woodrome Oldsmobile, Inc. in an offer of $8,596.

Walkers will start at the fire department, proceed north on Madison Avenue, then east on Fourteenth Street to the AMVETS parking lot at 14th and Iowa streets which will be the first check point.

Leaving the amvets Lot the "walkathon" will head east to McCambridge Avenue and south to the Louis Baer school underpass; east on Harris Street to Farris Street stopping at the Madison High School, the second check point.

Leaving MHS, the walkers will go south on Sixth Street, south on McCambridge Avenue to Third Street and the west on Third back to the Madison fire station.

Any individual or merchant wishing to make a donation to the March of Dimes also may contact Mrs. Voloski.

Zoning hearing

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an on-site public hearing at 10:40 a.m. Friday at 8703 Fairway Blvd., in the State Park Place Acreage Annex, an R-4 single family residential district of Nameoki Township, on a petition by Harold and June Featherston, owners, for a special use permit to place a mobile home on the lot.

To discuss summer program

The local chapter of the National Association for Gifted Children will hold its last regularly scheduled meeting of the year at Coolidge Junior High School today at 7:30 p.m. The Gifted Summer School Program for primary and intermediate aged children will be discussed.

For the first time this year a summer school program for primary aged children, grades one, two, and three will be offered. Niedringhaus Elementary School was chosen because of its central location and established learning center.

Some of the courses to be offered are "Granite City and the State of Illinois," "Visiting Faraway Places," "From Stars to Dinosaurs to Mars," "Arts and Crafts," "Making Games for Play and Learning," "Learning About and Caring for Animals," and "Creative Expression."

The gifted summer school program for intermediate aged children, grades four, five, and six will be held at Coolidge Junior High School. Some of the new courses this summer are "Horticulturalist—A Plant Doctor," "Origami," "Still Photography and Movie Techniques," "Styles and Stuff," and "Television Program Production."

Both programs will start June 10 and end July 26. Interested parents and students have been invited to attend the meeting tonight.

SPECIAL MEETING

The Granite City Public Library board of trustees will hold a special meeting in the library Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. it was announced today.

Triangle track win by Trojans

Madison High School trackmen earned 75 points Thursday in a triangular meet at home with Columbia and Assumption to post their second and third victories of the season. Columbia had 67 points and Assumption 31½.

Outstanding performances were given by Madison's Kelvin Boyd and Willie Sheary.

Boyd captured first place in the 100-yard (10.4), 220-yard (24) and 440-yard (53.8) dashes.

Sheary emerged the victor in the triple jump (38-8) and pole vault (12-0).

Other Trojan firsts were by Chris Stanley in the 330-yard low hurdles (45.5), and the 880 yard relay squad (1:38.5) of Osborn Lomax, James Turner, Lamont Garrett and Joe Young.

Second-place finishes were by Mike Walker in the two-mile run, Stanley in 120-yard high hurdles, Garrett 220-yard dash, Turner shot put, Sheary high jump, Garrett triple jump, Lomax pole vault, and the 440 yard relay squad.

Third places were garnered by Sheary in the 120-yard high hurdles, Young 100-yard dash, James Redman mile run, Ivan Simms shot put, Turner discus, Alfred Crawford long jump and Rodney Walker in the high jump.

Shutout win by tennis Warriors

Warrior netmen captured their second consecutive tennis victory Thursday by defeating visiting Assumption of East St. Louis 5-0 at Wilson Park.

South High singles competition victors were Bill Rusick 6-0, 6-1, Frank Faulkner 6-0, 6-1, and Mark Brustati 6-3, 5-2.

Bill Berger and Gary Osborn teamed for 6-1, 6-0 wins and Alan Davenport and Mike Papes downed their foes 6-1, 6-1.

Steelers rally but lose 8-5

Granite City North rallied with three runs in the top of the sixth inning aided by two walks and a sacrifice fly Thursday at Wilson Park, but the Steelers were victimized 8-5 by Roxana.

North used three pitchers—Cary Simpson for four innings, Bernard Courtney two and Bill Dickerson, one. They held Roxana to eight hits.

Enemy scoring came in the first, third and fifth innings.

The Shells erred twice to North's seven errors.

Steelers collected six hits—singles by John Scott, Harvey Breckner, Larry Petri, Ed Schmidt, Jeff Larner and John Harding.

The local nine scored two runs in the third and trailed 8-2 going into the sixth.

Schmidt kicked off North's productive inning with a walk, advancing on a single by Larner. Both runners advanced when a ground ball by Harding zipped past the third baseman for an error, loading the bases.

Steve Reingel and Breckner drew walks to force in Schmidt and Larner, and a fly ball hit by John Scott to right field scored Harding.

Sanford-Brown honors Jones, Glasper, Lucas and Latham

Sanford-Brown College held its 1973-74 annual basketball banquet Sunday evening at the school in St. Ann. Coach John Campbell announced 14 varsity letters will be issued.

The Indians won 17 and lost nine games and won the Greater St. Louis College Conference and also the conference tournament.

Greg Jones of Granite City received the John Schmitz Jr. Memorial Trophy for highest free throw average of 75.3 per cent and he also received the field goal percentage award, hitting 194 of 381 for 50.9 per cent.

Roger Glasper of Madison received the trophy for most assists with 91 and Calvin Miller of Brooklyn received the Pam Campbell Memorial award for most rebounds (308).

Miller finished his four-year career with a record 1,502 rebounds and his 1,839 points place him as the No. 3 all-time scorer behind Bob Moran and Carl Worthan, the latter of Granite City.

Varsity letter winners included Roger Glasper, Madison, Greg Jones, Granite City, Dennis Latham, Madison, and Charles Lucas, Madison.

Lucas totaled 231 field goals on 474 attempts and 50 of 79 free throws for 512 points. He recorded 283 rebounds and 42 assists.

In addition to his 194 field goals, Jones meshed 55 of 73 free throws, totaling 443 points. He had 116 rebounds and 73 assists.

Glasper's 150 points came on 62-of-180 accuracy from the field and 26-of-45 marksmanship at the free throw line. He gathered in 52 rebounds.

Latham scored 125 points on 48 of 121 field goal attempts and 29 of 42 charity tosses. He obtained 57 rebounds and was credited with 15 assists.

Tennis doubles win by Trojans

Trojans Louis Arnold and Mike Woods teamed for the first time this season and defeated their Waterloo opponents 10-3 for Madison High's only point Thursday at Lee Park, Venice.

The visiting squad captured the meet 4-1.

"Woods had always been a singles player," commented Coach Dan Kostencki, "but he has proven himself to be an able doubles partner."

"Arnold has perhaps one of the finest serves in the area and has a good, deep swing."

"His serving is what kept us in the match. We were trailing 2-3 after the first five games and ended up winning."

Loosing were Jeff Uristo 0-10, Wilson McCaskill 0-10, Patrick Winston 1-10 and Rickey Walker and William Arckey, 2-10.

Benefit drag race draws 7,000

The "Olympics of Drag Racing," a benefit drag race against muscular dystrophy, attracted a crowd estimated at more than 7,000 persons during the weekend at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

The Saturday and Sunday programs offered runs by five funny cars, four top fuel dragsters, three wheelstanding show vehicles, the Earthquake jet car, pro-stocks and all other trophy and money classes.

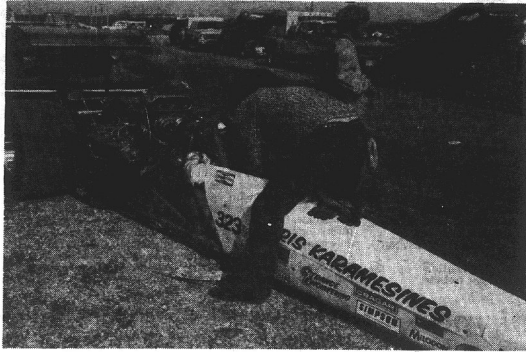

Chris "the Greek" Karamesines of Chicago powered his top fuel dragster to some of the most exciting runs of the weekend.

But he experienced a little unexpected excitement himself as the steering wheel of his AA fuel dragster fell off at the finish line during a side-by-side run against the Determination II car Sunday. Karamesines was clocked at 217.92 miles-per-hour when the incident occurred and he brought the car to a safe stop with the help of a parachute.

Later, the driver could only comment, "When the steering wheel came off in my hands, I was just glad the car was going straight." On the run, Karamesines covered the quarter-mile track in 7.300 seconds and won the heat.

Despite his quick times, Karamesines was unable to top the rugged top fuel field, finishing second to Marvin Graham of Oklahoma City, Okla., Saturday night and third behind Graham and the Hurst and Fryor top fueler Sunday. Graham had the fastest clocking of the meet in 6.361 seconds and also the fastest terminal speed at 227.85 m.p.h. during separate runs.

Gene Snow of Fort Worth, Tex., who pledged a comeback this weekend after almost 16 months of bad luck in major races, made good his promise, piloting his Revell Snowman Vega funny car to victories Saturday and Sunday over Dale Pulte of Long Beach, Calif., in the Mickey Thompson Grand Don Schumacher's Revell Shoe Vega completed the quarter-mile in 6.855 seconds Sunday at 208.34 miles per hour in a solo run after Bill Smallwood's funny car broke. Dion Stewart of St. Louis took his first trip in a funny car Saturday, piloting his alcohol burning car on runs of 7.815 seconds and 7.789 seconds with a top speed reached of 177.87 mph.

Competition was close among the nine pro-stocks which made qualifying attempts, but Warren Johnson of Minneapolis, Minn., in a Vega emerged as champion, defeating Preston Honea of St. Louis in the Matt Johnson Camaro. Honea earlier defeated the fastest qualifier of the meet, Fred Shaffer of Granite City.

Shaffer had the fastest run of the meet, 9.215 seconds, while Johnson topped the field in terminal speed at 148.28 m.p.h. The crowd also viewed two runs each day by the Earthquake jet of Mike Evengens, and wheelstanding runs by three vehicles.

Wheelstanders performing Saturday were Richard Hutchings Chevy Rebel truck, Bill "Maverick" Golden's Little Red Wagon truck and Gary Watson's Paddy Wagon. Only Hutchings was able to perform Sunday as Golden's truck broke and Watson had another commitment. Bill Gates of St. Louis won super stock top money Sunday while the stock honors went to the Mitchell Used Cars Grenlin from Troy, Mo. William Bond of St. Louis won the selectra top prize Sunday.

Track owner Wayne Meinert announced the track will conduct weekly races Saturday nights and Sundays, beginning this weekend, in addition to weekly Wednesday night grudge races.

Spalding first from pole to finish line

Defending Tri-City Speedway track champion Wib Spalding started on the pole position of the 25-lap late model stock car feature race and was never headed all the way to the checked flag here Friday night.

He finished nearly a quarter-mile ahead of the rest of the field. Placing second was Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo. Third was Lin Gittemeier of St. Charles.

Spalding of Pontoon Beach was only the eighth fastest qualifier on the half-mile oval, in 27.25 seconds. First in the time trials was Rosewood Height's Bill Myers, 26.34.

The local driver powered his way to the main event lineup by virtue of second-place finishes in the first heat race behind Ken Schrader of Valley Park, Mo., and in the handicap race behind Lou Janssen of Bethalto.

Other late model victims were: Myers, heat race, and Jim Patrick, heat race, and semi-event.

Granite Cityan Gary Barker drove to victory in the sportsman class heat race and then captured his second consecutive feature race by barely nudging Granite City's Rob Bailey at the checkers. Gary Wallace was the other heat winner.

Park baseball

The Granite City Park District will hold two meetings this week at 7 p.m. in Room Three at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues, to distribute rules, schedules, scorebooks and baseballs to managers of the district's baseball program.

District spokesman Mike Jesse said managers of Alton and Bantam divisions should attend a Tuesday, April 30, meeting and managers of Midget and Juvenile divisions a Thursday, May 2, meeting.

Jesse said some of the women's softball team managers have not picked up player release waivers from his office, and they should do so immediately before team rosters can officially be accepted.

He also asks that anyone interested in officiating as an umpire at upcoming games contact him at 877-3059.

Bill would curb 'brutalizing' of people in debt

Attorney General William J. Scott has pledged to end "nightmare tactics" used by some debt collectors in Illinois. He has drafted tough new legislation to enforce a statewide crackdown on the "brutalizing of people in debt."

Scott is jointly proposing the new legislation—the Debtor's Protection Act—with Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, who with Scott has expressed concern about debt harassment against senior citizens on limited, fixed incomes.

Scott said the bill is being introduced in the legislature by Rep. Arthur A. Tolson (R, Chicago). The attorney general added:

"I doubt if there's a family anywhere in Illinois that has not, at some time, had a bad encounter with a debt collector. Far too often, the hint of physical violence, the threatened seizure of a family's home, midnight telephone harassment and other nightmare tactics have been used to intimidate and terrorize people already faced with the trauma of bills they simply can't pay immediately.

"When debt collectors pose as phony police officers, lawyers and court or government officials to achieve payment-by-fright, the state must act."

Labeling his Debtor's Protection Act "one of the toughest in the nation today," Scott said the proposed legislation hits hard at three basic abuses:

- (1) Harassing threats to the debtor and his family.
- (2) Fraudulent guises and poses by debt collectors to induce fear.
- (3) Excess charges heaped upon people in debt, but pocketed by the collectors.

The punitive section of the bill gives the attorney general authority to represent individual debtors against abusive collectors; seek injunctions or revocation of business permits, state licenses or corporate charters of debt collectors; and seek damages in behalf of an abused debtor, including civil penalties up to $50,000.

The bill further gives his office the authority to subpoena books and records and to require statements and testimony of any person involved in a debt collection complaint.

Highlights of the proposed bill: THREATS AGAINST DEBTORS AND THEIR FAMILIES.

The bill would outlaw: Use or threatened use of force or violence to a debtor, his family or his property. Threat of arrest or criminal prosecution. Threat of seizure, attachment or sale of a debtor's property without disclosing that such action can only be taken pursuant to court order. Harassment of a debtor or his family with great frequency or at unusual hours. Use of profane, obscene or threatening language in communications with the debtor or his family. Any conduct which can reasonably be expected to cause mental distress to the debtor or his family.

EMPLOYER, CREDIT

RATING THREATS.

The bill would prohibit: Disclosure or threat to disclose false information affecting a debtor's reputation. Initiation or threat to communicate with a debtor's employer, except as permitted by statute including Section 21 of the Illinois "Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Practices Act."

Threatened or actual disclosure of a debtor's indebtedness to any other person except as permitted by statute. Disclosure of debt information known to be reasonably disputed by the debtor without acknowledging that the debt is disputed.

FRAUDULENT INTIMIDATION.

Another section of the proposed act forbids:

Use of any simulated legal or judicial instrument which falsely gives the appearance of a governmental or legal document or communication. Use of an alias or other than the true name of a debt collector. Use of any badge, uniform or other identification to falsely represent a government agency or official. Use of any business name which suggests that a debt collector is bonded if he is not or that he is affiliated with any court or governmental agency. Failure to disclose that any communication to obtain information is for the purpose of collecting a debt. Failure to clearly disclose in any demand for payment the full business name and address of the person to whom the debt is owed.

Any misrepresentation of the amount of the debt. Any representation that a debt may be increased by the addition of attorney's fees, investigative fees or any other fees or charges when such may not legally be added to an existing debt. A false representation that the debt collector is an attorney when he is not.

Still other sections of the bill are designed to prevent collectors from adding on charges and fees of their own for settlement of a debt.

Yet another provision requires the return of documents involved in a debt collection to the proper sources, and prohibits a debt collector from employing a lawyer unless authorized in writing by the creditor.

Scott said he considers the debtor protection bill "the best insurance policy an Illinois citizen can have against invasion of his natural privacy by harassing debt collectors—and the best assurance we can offer of equal protection under the law against abuses by debt collectors who lack conscience and basic decency."

The Illinois attorney general said the proposed legislation is an outgrowth of public hearings his Consumer Protection Division held several months ago on tactics of bill collectors, as well as press inquiries into abuses by debt collection agencies.

Democratic county chairmen in state to convene May 8

By ROBERT E. STILL Press-Record

Springfield Bureau

Gov. Daniel Walker's coolness towards Democratic county chairmen is coming back to haunt him.

The president of the Illinois Democratic County Chairmen's Association is turning a deaf ear to Walker's appeal for help in his continuing effort to remove the Democratic State Central Committee from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's direct influence.

"As far as I'm concerned, the Walker administration has never worked with us, and I don't see why we should work with them," said Perry County Chairman John Rednour of Duquoin.

Walker turned to the county chairmen for help after his attempt to require rotating the Democratic State Committee chairmanship Downstate every two years fizzled.

The governor on April 15 sent telegrams to each of the 24 committee members (one from each Congressional district) in which he denied he was trying to dump incumbent State Democratic Chairman John Touhy but urged a bylaws change to require electing Downstate every two years.

When the committee met four days later, Touhy, a Daley loyalist, was elected unanimously and without opposition to a four-year term.

A subsequent attempt by John Houlahan of Park Forest, whom Walker had named Veterans Commission administrator, to get a "consensus" on the governor's suggestion died for lack of a second.

Rednour expects Gov. Walker to get little aid and comfort from the chairmen, many of whom are still ranked by Walker's supposed "no chairmen on his state payroll" policy.

"I think the help will be minimum. I'm sure I won't recommend it," the DuQuoin Democrat said.

Rednour adds he is not one of the Walker administration's favorites and expects that the governor will field a candidate against him when the chairmen's association meets in Springfield May 8 to elect a president.

The Perry County chairman will be reviving his third two-year term and said the governor possibly might turn Christian Ben Cherry of Zeigler, Rednour's predecessor or Kankakee County Chairman Kenneth Hayes against him.

Both Bertinetti and Hayes still hold administrative posts under Walker despite his "no-chairmen" rule. The governor's office said he is still considering their situations.

Rednour said he hasn't seen any evidence that Bertinetti or Hayes will oppose him but he "suspects" they might.

Franklin County Chairman Ben Cherry of Zeigler, Rednour's predecessor as association president, is another possible contender. But Rednour said Cherry "is a regular Democrat like I am" and wouldn't be running as the governor's man.

Walker's proposal to rotate the chairmanship also gets no support from another Downstate, Leo Fitzgerald of Springfield, state central committee chairman for the 20th Congressional District.

Fitzgerald said he hasn't heard from any of the county chairmen in his district but he feels the committee should be free to vote for whom they consider the most qualified, without being bound by any set pattern.

"That's a quota system," said Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, first vice-chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, said there also would be legal barriers since the statute only provides for the committee to reorganize every four years.

Since Touhy was elected to a four-year term, the only way he could be removed before 1978 would be if he would resign—and he has said he won't.

"I think the chairman should serve through at least one Presidential campaign, and two years is just a training period," said Fitzgerald.

Sangamon County Democratic Chairman Todd Rednour, who represents the largest county in Fitzgerald's district, says bringing the chairmanship Downstate might help revive interest but says qualifications have to be considered, too.

Tentative calendar for Venice schools

A tentative 185-day school calendar, including three teacher institute days, has been adopted by the Venice Board of Education for the 1974-75 school year.

The calendar lists the first day of school in the fall term as Monday, Aug. 26, and June 5 as the final day of the 1974-75 year.

District institutes are scheduled for Oct. 18 and Jan. 24, with a county institute day set for March 20. A spring vacation is listed from March 28 to March 31, with March 28 (Good Friday) also set for school dismissal.

The first semester runs from Aug. 26 to Jan. 17 and the second semester from Jan. 20 to June 5.

Other holidays listed, include Labor Day, Sept. 2; Columbus Day, Oct. 7; Veteran's Day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 28 and Nov. 29; Christmas Holidays, Dec. 24 to Jan. 2; Dr. Martin Luther King's Birthday, Jan. 15; Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 12; Good Friday, March 28; and Memorial Day, May 30.

If not needed for emergency closing, Dec. 26 and June 2, 3 and 4 may be declared dismissal days, the calendar states.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

The St. Louis Jazz Quartet will perform Wednesday at the Dunbar Grade School, Madison, gymnasium from 9:15 a.m. to 10 a.m. under the sponsorship of the Humanities Program of Unit District 12. Parents and students have been invited free of charge.

Speech, hearing problems topic of conference

The theme of the eighth annual spring conference on communicative disorders to be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is "Language and Learning Disorders of Children." The conference is scheduled May 10.

Joint sponsors of the one-day workshop are the SIUE Speech and Hearing Center and the Southwestern Illinois Speech and Hearing Association.

Guest speaker will be Tina E. Bangs, director of the Speech and Hearing Institute, Health Science Center at Houston, affiliated with the University of Texas. Miss Bangs, who received her Ph.D. at Stanford University, holds a certificate in clinical competence in both speech and audiology and is a fellow in the American Speech and Hearing Association.

The one-day workshop, coordinated by O. Eugene Maag, professor of speech and audiology at SIUE, will begin at 8:30 a.m. with a coffee. All sessions will be held in the Communications Building.

The historic perspectives of language and learning disorders of children will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. From 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon, there will be an assessment of language and learning disorders. Following lunch, a session on programming the linguistically handicapped child will be held from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Maag is expecting speech and hearing clinicians from public schools and hospitals in the greater St. Louis area, as well as public health and school nurses, to attend the conference. There is no charge for registration.

The conference should be of particular interest to those specializing in learning disabilities, language of the preschool child and the acoustically handicapped," Maag said.

Price rollback

Hutchings Service Station, Granite City, has agreed to make refunds to the public totaling $943 by charging below the legal gasoline ceiling prices, Leon C. Green, Internal Revenue district director in Springfield, said Friday. The voluntary rollback conforms to federal energy regulations.

Trebtor Tichenor at SIUE

Trebtor Tichenor, St. Louis musician and radio personality, will be featured at "An Evening of Ragtime" Friday, May 3, by the Friends of Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He will be assisted by Alan Stricker, St. Louis banjoist.

The annual dinner meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the River Rooms of the University Center. Open to the public, the dinner is $5 per person and reservations can be made by writing or telephoning the office of the Friends of Lovejoy Library, 618-692-3938, before Wednesday.

Known in publishing and collecting circles throughout the country as one of the foremost collectors and authorities on ragtime music, Tichenor has played piano since he was five. He began playing professionally in 1960 with Stricker's Mississippi Jazz Band.

In 1961, he and Stricker joined Don Franz's newly-formed St. Louis Ragtimers and played in Gaslight Square for four years. In 1965, they went to the Goldenrod Showboat after Frank and Frank Pierson formed a corporation to buy the burned Goldenrod. They have been playing there since it was refurbished and reopened in 1965.

In 1971, Tichenor had a weekly radio show of his own on station KDNA. In 1972, he began a weekly show on KWMU-FM, owned and operated by the University of Missouri at St. Louis. The show can be heard Sundays at 8 p.m.

At SIUE, Tichenor and Stricker will feature "The Ragtime Piano of Scott Joplin and his Contemporaries, 1893-1920," including both well-known and rare "rags" from Tichenor's collection.

MRS. ROBERT HARRISON, who was married in an early afternoon ceremony at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oklahoma City, Okla. She is the former Miss Peggy Dawn Farrell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell of Oklahoma City, formerly of Granite City.

Peggy Dawn Farrell and Robert Harrison are wed

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Peggy Dawn Farrell and Robert Daniel Harrison, taking place at 2 p.m. April 20 at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oklahoma City, Okla. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Wagner.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell, 5016 SE 47th St., Oklahoma City, formerly of Granite City. The groom is a son of Mrs. Shirley Harrison and Roy Harrison, both of Oklahoma City.

Bouquets of white daisies and yellow carnations adorned the altar for the double ring service.

A reception was held in the church hall immediately following the ceremony.

A full length gown of bone white peau de soie, fashioned with an Empire waist and high stand up lace collar, was worn by the bride.

The dress was designed with long tapered sleeves and a semi-straight skirt featuring a chapel train edged in matching lace.

Miss Cindy Amberger of Granite City was maid of honor and Carol Duncan served as bridesmaid.

County Home Economics Adviser

Nothing necessarily happens on your 65th birthday to change you physically or mentally. But in our social system, things do happen.

For some older Americans, it's often more difficult finding a place to live, a way to get around, new friends, a part-time job, or a place to use a skill.

Every community offers different services. The sponsors and location of its services, and eligibility rules vary.

But the Administration on Aging in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the State Agency on Aging, local health and welfare councils, special divisions and district offices of the Social Security Administration will just some of the organizations that act as information and referral centers for older people.

Many people wish to retire, or are forced to retire, from full-time paid employment on or before their 65th birthday.

For almost all, this means a major reduction in income—it may mean as much as 50 or 60 per cent less money coming in regularly.

And for those who wish to remain in the labor market, employment opportunities are greatly restricted.

Almost every American reaching age 65 today is eligible for Social Security benefits on that birthday. So, check at least three months before your 65th birthday.

You may apply for these benefits at age 62 if you prefer, but early payment will reduce the monthly benefit amount for the rest of your life.

If you think you are eligible for one of the other federal programs, check with the Railroad Retirement Board, the Civil Service Commission or the Veterans Administration for additional information.

If you are 65 or older, have a very low income, and are not eligible for any of the above benefits, you are probably eligible for Supplemental Security Income. Your local Social Security office can provide information about this program.

If you are eligible for Social Security money benefits, you are also eligible for Medicare to help pay for health care.

The hospital insurance part of Medicare which pays for a large portion of any hospitalization is free. And the medical part (doctor's services) will cost you a small amount monthly.

If you have a low income, you are probably also eligible for Medicaid, which covers both hospital and doctor's services.

You may also be eligible for food stamps, which can stretch your food budget. Food stamp eligibility is not based on age, but on income.

Under this program, you will pay cash for the stamps but will receive stamps worth about 30 per cent more in purchasing power than you pay for them.

There is a large variety of services and opportunities available to older citizens in individual communities.

Some banks offer free checking accounts—no service charge—to older citizens; many movie theaters and other recreational facilities offer discounts to older people; and some states and counties offer discount admissions to state parks and campsites and cut-rate fishing licenses.

People with low income, including older people, are eligible for low-rent public housing where it exists. Check with your housing authority about community resources and your eligibility.

A new national nutrition program provides some home-delivered meals.

But its major emphasis will be on group meals in places where lonely and hungry people may come together, make friends, learn about nutrition and consumer aids, and take part in community activities.

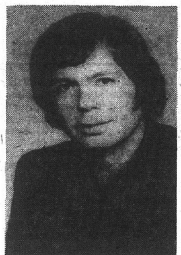

Employment opportunities for older people include three federally funded service programs—the Foster Grandparent Program, the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, and Score (Service Corps of Retiree Executives).

And remember, you get double exemption on your federal income tax for the whole year in which you reach 65.

Burglary on Meridian

Burglars entered the home of Roy Hill, 1232 Meridian Ave., through an unlocked door and ransacked the house, it was reported at 2:50 a.m. Friday.

Taken were a small organ, a check book, a tape player and speakers, a clock-radio, a police band receiver, a television, a jewel box and jewelry, a bank and money and tape recordings and albums.

RONALD PENNELL
Luncheon speaker

May Fellowship Day luncheon on Friday

Ronald Pennell, speech teacher at Granite City High School South, is the scheduled speaker at the May Fellowship Day luncheon of the Quad-City Church Women United, to be held at noon Friday, at the Koinonia Center, 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

The guest speaker will use the National Church Women United's theme "Explore New Paths" as his topic, explaining with humor and interest that new paths are often hidden in the old routes people have taken.

Mrs. Leonard Roberts, president, reported.

Pennell holds a bachelor of science degree from Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, and a masters' degree in theatre from St. Louis University.

Mrs. Roberts said the luncheon affords Quad-City area women an opportunity to gather together to continue the long tradition of meeting on the first Friday in May.

Luncheon tickets costing $1.25 each may be obtained by contacting individual church chairmen or by calling Mrs. Peter Argean, 2500 Hodges Ave., at 877-1666 for reservations.

vations. Baby sitting services will be provided during the luncheon meeting, Mrs. Roberts said.

"Tela-Price helps you make a better food buy."

Here's why:

What is Tela-Price?

Three years ago, long before consumer information programs became "fashionable," Schnucks introduced Tela-Price. Its whole purpose is to help you make the best buy by telling you the product's cost per ounce, pound or other unit of measure.

Tela-Price lets you compare cost and size, brand for brand, and item for item. For example, look at the two Tela-Price labels in this ad and compare them. They give you the brand name of the coffees, the sizes and the cost. Schnucks Tela-Price program makes it easy to be a smart shopper.

All you need to know...

Everything you need to know is on the Tela-Price label. You'll see these labels on the shelf below every product. These easy-to-read labels give you the brand name, the total retail price, the cost per ounce, pound or other unit of measure and the size of the product container.

You make the best food buy...

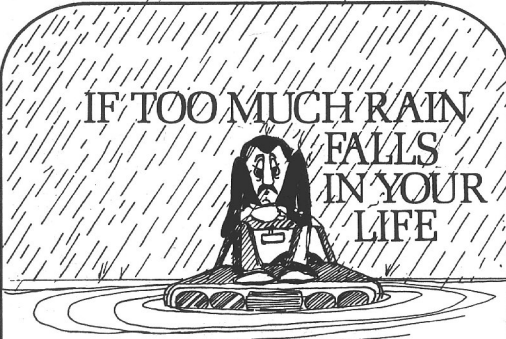

You save time, guessing and money when you use Tela-Price. What's more,

Our other consumer programs...

Making the best food buy is on everyone's mind today. And, this is one of the big reasons why we provide consumer information programs. Take Tela-Dating, for example. The dated label on many of our products helps you make a better buy for freshness. Meat Identification Tela-Cut is another useful program which helps you make a better meat buy. At Schnucks, we've always thought that helping the consumer get a better value is a very fashionable idea.

you COULD find yourself sunk without your savings with us. Any one of our many savings plans will bring you many happy returns ... and at a high rate of interest.

New GC Steel-Steelworkers negotiations in Pittsburgh

Five representatives of the United Steelworkers of America from this area will be in Pittsburgh all of this week, seeking to effect a contract settlement with the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

They also will attend a seminar on implementation of a federal court consent decree on union seniority within the plant. Meetings between the union and Granite City Steel are the first since basic negotiations ended April 11. Local working conditions, the topic of the negotiations, are not subject to compulsory arbitration, and the two parties could strike or lock-out on Aug. 1 in support of unresolved contract requests.

Attending are Clyde Boyd, staff representative, Jim Kelahan of Local 67, Elmer Zirges of Local 30, But Buron of Local 68 and Vasil Mihai of Local 16.

Man is hurt fatally in fall from tower, another injured

Amrose Darden, 32, of East St. Louis, formerly of Madison, died Friday in the intensive care unit of Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. He had been fatally injured Thursday when a 34,000-volt electrical wire cut on an injuries to his back, spine, chest and right knee. He apparently jumped or fell about 50 feet from the tower when Mr. Darden was shocked.

A third man, Harvey Williams, 26, of 11 Hill St., was injured when he was struck by the same electrical wire while on the ground at the time and drive to the Hartford police station for help after the incident. He has been charged with attempted theft and criminal damage to property.

Darden was found on the ground at the time, and drove to burned off, witnesses reported. Madison County detectives were told Darden cut the wire with a pair of bolt cutters. He was knocked from the tower by the shock, authorities believe.

A short time later, four men were arrested on Route 3 just north of Interstate 270 when police allegedly found a large quantity of copper wire in the trunk of their car.

Charged with unlawful use of force, possession of burglary tools and possession of cannabis were Eugene Sanders, 28, of 107 Carver St., and Eddie Anthony, 27, of 204 Terry St., both in Eagle Park Acres; John Latham, 31, of 85 Greiner Homes, Madison, and Leroy Davis, 29, of East St. Louis.

Picketing

nursing home said the strike had not "impaired operating efficiency" at the home and that a visit by an Illinois Public Health Department professional nurse and by a health sanitarian, also from the state health department, after the strike began Saturday, gave approval to the home's staffing and operational conditions.

Those on strike include nurse aides, housekeepers and members of the dietary staff. Such representation, in a statement issued after a picket line was set up at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, said, "We are on strike because we feel our employer has committed unfair labor practices by trying to persuade us not to join a union."

"Second, our employer has refused to recognize Service Employees Union, Local 50, AF of CIO, as our collective bargaining agent even though a majority of us have signed application cards requesting such representation."

"Third, we feel that the home is grossly understaffed. The majority of us are paid only the federal minimum wage. We feel, however, that our duties and responsibilities justify a living wage and adequate fringe benefits."

In a prepared statement issued this morning, an administrative spokesman at the nursing home said:

"Granite City's newest professional nursing home, the Colonial Haven, was subjected to a picket line by Local 50, Service Employees Union, St. Louis at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, April 27.

"The picket line was established after the NLRB dismissed a petition filed by the union.

"This petition had been considered invalid by Colonial Haven and its position was upheld by the NLRB following a hearing April 4.

"After the NLRB board reviewed the case and the hearing transcript, it ruled the petition be dismissed. Since the NLRB dismissed the petition, it is the opinion of Colonial Haven that the picket line is illegal.

"This same union was found guilty of violating federal law in connection with picketing at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Nursing Home in St. Louis.

"The Colonial Haven Nursing Home is continuing to provide excellent care for its 103 patients. A professional nurse of the Illinois Department of Public Health visited the home at mid-morning Saturday to evaluate patient care and was very pleased with the care rendered.

"Health sanitarian from the public health department also inspected the home and found no deficiencies. They reported the home was well staffed and in excellent operational condition Saturday afternoon.

Referring to the NLRB petition was dismissed not because it was invalid but because "it was considered an unlawful" strike. He said this decision was reached after testimony by nursing home officials that construction of additions is being planned.

He denied also that the union "was 'found guilty' of violating any laws in connection with the picketing at the St. Louis nursing home, but was required only to pledge it would desist in certain picketing practices. Granite City Police were called three times Saturday and once this morning on complaints that pickets had moved onto the home's property, or had obstructed persons from entering the nursing home."

May to bring flowers —and noise complaints

As the temperatures rise in the spring, so, apparently, do the tempers of people exposed to noise pollution.

After a winter lull, Illinois residents have once again begun to report disturbing noises to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency in increasing numbers.

Noise pollution exists all the time, but is more noticeable in the warmer months, according to Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA.

"Noise is not a seasonal problem, but in winter we keep our windows closed, so the noise doesn't always bother us," he said.

"Because noise doesn't have an odor, and because we can't see it, people forget noise is a problem. But it is."

"We have surveillance people in the field, answering citizen complaints. We depend heavily on local citizens to point out noise pollution," he added.

"Thus we are always happy when spring rolls around. We want to know where problems exist. The best way for us to learn of disturbing noise so we can help solve the problem is for people to call us," Briceland said.

About 75 per cent of all noise-related complaints in Illinois are voiced between May and October.

Noise pollution complaints may be sent to James Reid, Division of Noise Pollution Control, Illinois EPA, 4500 S. 6th, Springfield 62706; telephone: 217-786-6758.

Brown explains park program

Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation for the Granite City Park District, spoke and showed slides of the district's park programs at the Thursday meeting of the Breakfast Kwanis Club in Charlie's Restaurant.

The park district has a total of 161 acres of land with 72 acres at Wilson Park, he said.

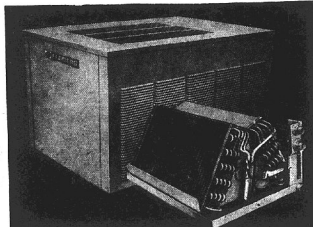

Brown said that programs offered by the park are at no cost to the residents living within the park district. The district is tax supported.

Dr. Thomas Layloff announced that at next week's meeting, J. Richard Hooks, advisor of Explorer Post 104 of Madison, will show slides of the group's trip through Texas and Mexico last summer.

Boats to use Channel 22

The U. S. Coast Guard has announced new radio broadcast times and frequencies of key interest to recreational boaters and commercial mariners along the 6,500-mile Western Rivers system.

"Beginning May 1, all safety, urgent and other marine information will be broadcast on Channel 22 (157.1 megahertz)," said Rear Admiral Owen W. Siler, who has jurisdiction over Coast Guard missions in the 22 states within the Second Coast Guard District. He is based in St. Louis.

"Effective immediately, we are authorizing the boating and maritime public to crystallize and use Channel 22 to communicate with the Coast Guard," he said. "This frequency has been designated by the Federal Communications Commission as the primary liaison frequency for non-government vessels and the Coast Guard."

To reach the Coast Guard, mariners should call the service's radio stations on Channel 16 (156.8 megahertz). Immediately upon contact, they will be told to shift to Channel 22 to pass their message.

Channel 16 is a national calling and emergency frequency and is monitored continuously; Channel 22 is not.

Veterans' Learning Center

The Office of Veterans Affairs at SIUE has established a Veterans' Learning Center on campus to assist veterans with academic problems. The center, located on Bluff Hall, will help veterans develop study skills, test-taking skills, communication and mathematics skills.

The center will be open on Mondays and Wednesdays from 1 to 5 p.m.; Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30 to 1:30 p.m., and Fridays from 1 to 4 p.m.

Paul Wheeler, graduate assistant in the center, will be coordinator of the center.

IRS employers' deadline

April 30 is the last day for Springfield District employers to report and pay Social Security and withheld Federal income taxes for the first quarter of 1974.

"Employers have until May 10 to file Form 941, 'Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return,' if they have deposited the entire quarterly tax liability on time in a Federal Reserve Bank or authorized commercial bank," said Leon C. Green, IRS district director.

Employers should use the pre-addressed Forms 941 mailed to them by the IRS; or obtain copies of the form from the nearest IRS office.

IRS Publication 15, "Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide," provides more information for employers and is available free from IRS offices or by contacting Forms, P. O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Dog control ordered

The Madison City Council has instructed Humane Officer Jack Corey and Chief of Police Frank Dutko to fully enforce the city's dog control ordinance.

The ordinance requires that all dogs must be on a leash and may not run loose within the city. A dog must be kept in a fenced yard or on a chain and must have rabies shots.

Dogs found running loose will be impounded, and if not claimed within five days will be disposed of under the law.

Owners whose dogs are impounded must pay $1 a day release fee, and violations of the dog ordinance could result in an animal's owner paying $50 in fines.

Youth injured
Michael Mousette, 19, of 1425 Lincoln Ave., suffered a cut to his head when he was reportedly struck with a shotgun during an altercation at 10:10 p.m. Thursday. He said he was visiting his brother, Richard Mousette, 2122 Adams St., when two men came to visit and a fight developed.

One man displayed a pocket knife and another displayed the shotgun during the incident, according to reports. Michael Mousette was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Parents group plans events

Plans for special activities and meetings of Parents Without Partners, Granite City Chapter 470, were announced last week by Walter Bergfield, president.

A board meeting will take place at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Dina Fox, 814 Madison Ave., Madison and a social evening on Saturday at Pele and Mary's Tavern.

A general membership meeting will take place at 8 p.m. May 15 at the Tri-City Post 131 American Legion Hall, 1825 State St., Bergfield said.

Also scheduled are a bowling party May 17 at the Panorama Bowl, Belleville, and a children's fishing event on Sunday, May 19 at Eleanor Vaughn's home, 13 Lakeview Drive.

Bergfield said a discussion group will meet at 8 p.m. May 29 in his home at Greenbush Mobile Home Court, Edwardsville.

Plan communion breakfast

St. Elizabeth's Altar Society welcomed new members and visitors and heard reports by Lillian Kopac and Mary Ohlendorf during its April meeting.

Committee reports were given by bake sale co-chairmen Frances Chast and Helen Favier, bingo co-chairmen Barbara Duffin and Sue Kurilla; program chairman Martha McIlroy and Christmas booth chairman Betty DeLutz. President Shirley Heath presided.

Final plans were made for the annual Communion Breakfast for ladies of the parish to be held Sunday, May 5.

A Day of Recollection will be held May 22, at Our Lady of the Snows. Those desiring information may contact Jean Ann Vreem. A May Fellowship Day will be held Friday as announced by Catherine Ponce, Church Women United. Plans also were discussed for a Barn Theatre trip in either July or August.

The room prize went to Miss Pogorelic's room. The Madonna for the evening was won by Emma Jakich with other prizes awarded to Kay Clay and Carol Patterson.

The meeting closed with prayer.

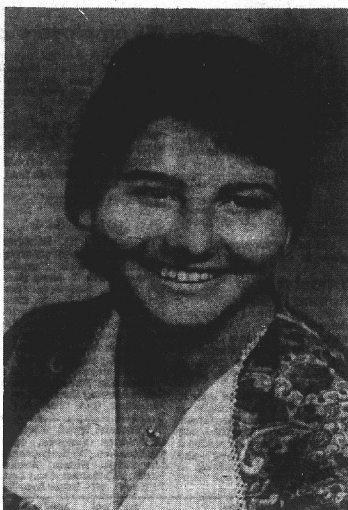

A wide variety of pies was served as well as tea and coffee by the hostesses Catherine Ponce, Kay Clay and Gloria Heintz. A centerpiece of yellow mums was flanked on either side with tall yellow candles in silver candelabra.

Program Chairman Martha McIlroy introduced Mrs. Judy Padgett and Mrs. Vickie Melton of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. Mrs. Padgett gave an informative talk on the group's projects to revitalize the downtown area and of the restoration presently in progress at homes in this area.

The hostesses for the May meeting will be Betty DeLutz and Agnes Friedel.

INJURED BY HORSE

George Dill, 13, of 1311 Gladys St., Collinsville, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:20 a.m. Saturday and underwent surgery for injuries to his face after he was kicked by a horse. His father is a self-employed horse trainer, officials said.

Zimmerman-Gerlach betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Gerlach, 1707 Edison Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia Dale Gerlach, to Seaman Paul Richard Zimmerman, U. S. Navy.

The prospective groom, a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman.

Miss Parsaglian feted at shower

A bridal shower honoring Miss Patricia Rose Parsaglian of Detroit, Mich., a former Granite City resident, was given last week at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Hostesses were Mrs. Pamela Asadorian, Miss Lori Saucier, Mrs. Barbara Varadian, and Miss Kathy Varadian.

Miss Parsaglian will be married to Karekin Gary Javarian of Birmingham, Mich., on July 5 at St. John's Armenian Church of Greater Detroit.

The honoree's table was decorated with a white coffee pot painted with blue flowers holding fresh cut blue and white daisies.

Guest tables were covered with pastel colored cloths and centered with fresh white blossoms. Favors were champagne glasses filled with mints and accented by blue satin ribbon and gold rings tied at the base.

Gifts were placed on a table skirted in calico print and adorned with an arrangement of dried flowers.

Games were played and prizes were won by Miss Toni Vartanian, Mrs. Gladys Asadorian, Mrs. Marian Varadian and Miss Diane Parsaglian.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostesses to Mesdames Richard Asadorian, L. T. Saucier, Jake Varadian, Nekehan Varadian, Robert Parsaglian, V. Parsaglian, John Maher, Bill Struharik, George Maksudian, Margie Sisoian, L. Gunerson, K. Shrikian, E. Z. Asadorian, A. Darakjian, J. McClain, Margaret Manogian, Peroz Asadorian, Margie Manogian, K. Ohanesian and Misses Leslie Saucier, Nancy and Chris Maksudian, Rosie Sisoian, Nancy and Roxie Asadorian, Helen Parsaglian and Becky Vartanian.

A silver and white color scheme was used to decorate the hall and a three-tier decorated cake centered the buffet table.

Among the 200 guests attending were Mrs. Thornton Opperman of Fairview Heights, who served as maid of honor, and John L. Sullivan of Belleville, best man at the wedding.

During the evening festivities, Miss Deanna Allen of Madison distributed anniversary scrolls to the guests.

Church welcomes new minister

The Clark Avenue Church of Christ, 2130 Clark Ave., this weekend welcomed a new minister, James E. Jones.

Jones was born at Fairview, Tenn., near Nashville. He attended David Lipscomb College in Nashville and the Summer School of Preaching in Lubbock, Tex.

Jones has worked for the Church of Christ in Oklahoma, New York and Georgia. He has held meetings and spoken on lectureships and worked in campaigns in Texas, Tennessee, New York, Arizona, Vermont, New Hampshire, Georgia and Canada.

He is 34 years old and has been a member of the Church of Christ since his early teenage years.

His wife, Barbara also is from Nashville. They have three children, Tammy, 12, Mark, 11, and Tommy, 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and

Girl Scout

volunteer dinner

A friendship dinner for local adult volunteers of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. John United Church of Christ, according to Mrs. Doris Stotz, council publicity chairman.

The event has been planned by Neighborhood 3, under the leadership of Mrs. Pat McKee, chairman, and will replace the annual international dinner, usually held in March, and a recognition banquet observed in October.

"North America" is the dinner theme. Entertainment is being arranged by Neighborhood 1, supervised by Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver, chairman. The Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey will offer the invocation on "friendship."

About 125 persons involved in the Girl Scout program in the Quad-City area are expected to attend, Mrs. Stotz said.

Job's Daughters to donate bond

Fourteen members of Job's Daughters, Bethel 43, departed Thursday by chartered bus to attend the organization's state session in Chicago. They were accompanied by six parents.

At a meeting earlier last week plans were made for the Chicago trip and to attempt a "Bonds for Braces" event in Wood River this Thursday evening.

Members of Bethel 43 will donate a bond to the program, Miss Joy Pope, honored queen, announced.

A car wash project was scheduled for May 18 and a guest night and cake walk were announced for May 14 at the Masonic Temple.

Paul Herzberg of Collinsville, area chairman of candy sales for the grand guardian, extended congratulations to local members for exceeding their quota. Ken Hartlage of Ballwin, Mo., was announced as the winner of a recent project.

Escorted and introduced were Mrs. Becky Slate and Dr. Amos Rode, Bethel 43 guardian and associate guardian, respectively; Mrs. Eleanor Todoroff, director of music; Debbie Trokey, honorary state officer; Leslie Houser, grand representative to Delaware in Illinois; Herzberg, Bethel 42 associate guardian; and Miss Diann Herzberg of Bethel 42.

Proficiency tests were given to 10 girls who were initiated at the last meeting, and refreshments were served in the dining room to 60 persons to conclude the evening.

Eta hosts 'Aloha' luncheon

Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority was host at a "Spring Aloha" luncheon at the Bel Air East, St. Louis, attended by 68 representatives of Missouri, Illinois, Kansas and Iowa chapters.

Hawaiian leis and brightly colored candles decorated the dining room and each member of the Granite City chapter was dressed in Hawaiian attire adding to the festive occasion.

A polynesian luncheon was served, followed by the music of George Lehmann, who also led the group in singing.

Committee members arranging the event were Mrs.

Jo Ervay, Miss Hilda Schroeder, Miss Kathryn Weddel, Mrs. Georgiana Van Buskirk and Miss Mary Hassler.

Guest chapters attending were Beta Chapter of East St. Louis; Omi Chron, Chicago; Tapa Kapa, Topeka, Kan.; Kappa Theta, Des Moines, Ia.; Zeta, Springfield, Ill.; Sigma Lambda, Des Moines, Ia.; Delta, Alton, Ill.; Phi, Kansas City, Mo.; and Eta Alton, Ill.

Phi Tau Omega Sorority was organized in 1925. Four of the founders attended the festivities.

Robert Joshus mark 25th year

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joshus, 3260 Rodger Ave., were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a dinner reception given Saturday evening at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall.

Hosting the observance were the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Briggs of Madison, and son, Marine Private First Class Robert W. Joshus, of Albany, Ga.

A silver and white color scheme was used to decorate the hall and a three-tier decorated cake centered the buffet table.

Among the 200 guests attending were Mrs. Thornton Opperman of Fairview Heights, who served as maid of honor, and John L. Sullivan of Belleville, best man at the wedding.

During the evening festivities, Miss Deanna Allen of Madison distributed anniversary scrolls to the guests.

Wide range of summer courses at university

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a wide range of courses during the summer quarter, designed to fill the needs and schedules of students at every academic level.

Three options are available to students at SIUE during the summer quarter, allowing the students flexibility in coursework and providing an opportunity to fit coursework into their other summer activities.

A student can register for a short-term workshop, an eight-week course program, or the traditional SIUE 11-week summer course program.

Short-term workshops last from one week to four weeks and range in interest from music to business education.

The School of Education at SIUE traditionally has held a variety of workshops for the school teacher who wants to upgrade his or her skills in the area of education. However, workshops also are offered in many other areas and appeal to many people, because they can do a full quarter of coursework in a short time.

Eight-week course sessions at SIUE in the past were designed primarily for people doing advanced work in the area of education, but this summer the eight-week program has been expanded to include course offerings in almost every field and at almost every academic level.

The 11-week course program at SIUE gives the student an opportunity to take a regular full quarter of course work. It appeals to students who would rather spread out their classroom work than take a more intensive course of study. Students interested in foreign language can receive an entire year of beginning foreign language instruction in the 11 weeks in the School of Humanities.

Courses such as "Issues in feminism" or "Decision-making for the consumer," also are offered in the 11-week program for those interested in current issues.

Other courses at SIUE include offerings by the Schools of Business, Fine Arts, Nursing, Science and Technology, and Social Sciences, and the General Studies Division.

Classes at SIUE are scheduled to fit the needs of the students. For those who work during the day, there are many courses offered in the evenings.

Besides a full schedule of daytime classes, evening courses are offered in almost every field of study.

A student who wants to register for a workshop has the convenience of registering at the first class session or, if the student wishes to register for a workshop and an eight-week or 11-week course, registration may be completed in advance. Registration by appointment for the summer quarter at SIUE is scheduled May 21, 22 and 23. Central registration will be held June 12.

Summer quarter classes begin June 18. Eight-week courses continue through Aug. 10, and 11-week classes through Aug. 31.

7 awarded divorces

Seven area couples have obtained divorces in Madison County Circuit Court. Divorced were:

Vina Bell Nelson (Farmer) of Granite City from Elmer Leon Nelson of Madison. They were married March 22, 1963. Mental cruelty was charged.

Nancy Sue Meszaros (Herman) of Madison from Robert A. Meszaros of Granite City. They were married Sept. 30, 1967. Mental cruelty was charged. Her former name was restored.

Pearl Mary Stone (Sternberg) of Granite City from Lonnie Stone of Madison. They were married Dec. 6, 1942. Mental cruelty was charged.

Hazel I. Corbin (Zemni) from

Clifford F. Corbin, both of Granite City. They were married March 15, 1974. Mental cruelty was charged.

Dwight A. Schrader of Granite City from Carol Schrader (Grammann) of Union, Mo. They were married July 1, 1968. Mental cruelty was charged.

Marie Jeanette Singler (Stacey) from Terri Lee Singler, both of Granite City. They were married Jan. 6, 1965. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of two children was granted to the mother.

Betty Lee Beadle (Uhl) from Larry J. Beadle, both of Granite City. They were married April 27, 1968. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of two children was granted to the mother.

To discontinue fire protection

Fire protection given by Granite City for the past year to residents of the Benjamin addition, an area outside the city limits between Illinois Route 3 and FA Route 151, will be discontinued Wednesday, it was announced Friday.

According to Mayor Paul Schuler and Fire Chief Don Parente, fire protection was extended to the area after residents notified the city of plans to annex to Granite City. There are 112 residences in the addition.

During the past year, however, no action to effect the annexation was taken, Schuler said. The mayor notified all property owners of the district about a month ago that fire protection would be discontinued if no firm commitment toward annexation was made. The mayor said he had response from only one family.

Area students get career grants

Eleven Quad-City area students are among 35 Madison County students who have been awarded health career grants by the Madison County Chapter of the March of Dimes.

Receiving new $100 grants to pursue health careers in this area were Therisa Gillham and Gail Veizer of Granite City and Teri Eck of Venice. Renewal grants of $100 each were granted to Cynthia Adams, Patricia Adams, Rebecca Ashcraft, Marilyn Scrum and Lonnie Stalecker, all of Granite City, and Leann Burger, Michael Dixon and Tom Eck of Venice.

Evangelist speaks here

Evangelist Al Jolly of Shreveport, La., will be holding a gospel meeting at the Church of Christ, 2830 Clark Ave., May 5 through 10.

Evangelist Jolly presently is working for the Creswell Street Church of Christ in Shreveport. He served as a teacher and counselor at the New York World's Fair and in 1964 to 1969 at Harding College, Arkansas. He has organized and directed area-wide activities in the Little Rock, Ark., area and spent six years as a teacher at Wuldwod Christian Camp.

Evangelist Jolly also has been active in mission work while in Wiesbaden, Germany, New Zealand and with the Navajo Indians in Many Farms, Ariz. He has spent time on a Bible tour through Russia.

Egypt, Palestine, Greece and Italy.
James Jones, new minister of the local church, said the meetings will begin at 6:30 p.m. Sunday and will continue at 7 p.m. daily through this week. The public is invited.

Shower honors Martha Edmonds

Ceramic teapots decorated with yellow and green daisies were used as favors for a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Mrs. Martha Edmonds given last week by Mrs. Ernest Eli and Mrs. William Heath.

The hostesses created the favors themselves and used the same theme in completing the decorations for the afternoon party. The event was held in the home of Mrs. Karmyn Edmonds, 2032 Amos Ave., mother of the honoree.

Luncheon was served to 20 guests following a games period and by Miss Edmonds opening her gifts.

The wedding of Miss Edmonds and Dr. Jeffrey Weiss will be solemnized on May 11 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Kerch gives Circle 3 program

A program on the life of Esther, conforming to the current study topic "Women of the Bible," was presented by Mrs. Mildred Kerch for Circle Three members last week.

Hostesses for the meeting held in the First United Presbyterian Church parlors were Mrs. Dee Roberts and Mrs. Corinne McCollum.

Members voted to donate a blanket for an overseas missionary project and to contribute $5 to the "Great Hour of Sharing," a local church program.

To conclude the session, Mrs. Olive Moore reviewed her travels through the Holy Land.

Beta Sigma Phi groups to mark Founder's Day

Eight local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, a social, cultural and service organization for women, will join with members throughout the world in celebrating the 43rd anniversary of Founder's Day at a 6:30 p.m. dinner Tuesday at the Granite City Army Installation.

Mrs. Imogene Forrest, president of the Beta Sigma Phi City Council, who is serving as dinner chairman, said Mrs. Nancy Simmons will be toastmistress. Entertainment will be provided in the form of a style show presented by Lord Nelson's Men Fashions.

Other activities planned for tomorrow evening include slides of the Valentine benefit ball to be shown by Pi Eta Chapter, and a special message from the group's international headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Awards will be presented to local members and outstanding members will be recognized.

Mrs. Forrest said.

She noted the theme for the new year, "Stairway to Happiness," will be officially launched as new officers are installed.

Beta Sigma Phi is non-academic, non-political and non-sectarian. The international organization has 250,000 members in 10,500 chapters established in 24 countries of the free world.

Chapters of five different degrees meet the growing needs of various age groups and members are active in small chapter groups which adapt their plans for social, civic, service and cultural activities to fit the interests of their own members.

Mrs. Forrest said. Local chapters have formed a city council on which all chapters have equal representation, she explained. Outstanding projects sponsored by the International Loan Fund, through which members help one another; the International Endowment Fund, through which vast sums have been donated to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, homes for underprivileged children and many other causes; and the Exemplar Fund, which helps to support Literacy Village in India.

Internationally, the chapters have created three special funds: The International Loan Fund, through which members help one another; the International Endowment Fund, through which vast sums have been donated to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, homes for underprivileged children and many other causes; and the Exemplar Fund, which helps to support Literacy Village in India.

For her wedding, the former Miss Bise chose an ivory satin and Chantilly lace gown. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and accented with an accordion pleated ruffle to create a big effect.

Long lace sleeves were tightly gathered at the wrists into a pleated ruffle. A delicate lace medallion centered the front box of a satin ribbon that encircled the waistline and fluted ruffling marked the redingote style skirt and formed the decorative hem.

Her mantilla veil was bordered with wide scalloped lace and she carried a bouquet of ivory roses interspersed with baby breath and ivy.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Jacquelyn Seper, matron of honor, and Mrs. Jill Vismovsky, Miss Joyce Bise, all sisters of the bride, and Miss Terri Bise, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaids.

They were identical coral and cream colored gowns of full length, complemented with coral picture hats. Each held a bouquet of ivory roses.

The groom chose Jack Nelson as his best man. Groomsman and ushers included Alfred,

Burton-Bise nuptials at Belleville church

The wedding of Miss Janice Bise, 4115 Memorial Drive, Belleville, and James Burton of Granite City was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at the Union United Church of Christ in Belleville.

Officiating at the candlelight ceremony was the Rev. Eugene Lockner.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Bise of Memphis, Tenn. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burton, 2949 Madison Ave.

Thomas Lee was the ringbearer.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Elks Lodge.

A graduate of Belleville Township High School West, the bride also graduated from Belleville Area College as a physical therapy assistant. She is a member of the Belleville Chapter of Sweet Adelines.

Her husband was graduated from Granite City High School and works as a dispatcher for Smithway Trucking Co. They will reside in Granite City.

Cicely Tyson's advice to would-be actresses is to 'know your craft'

Actress Cicely Tyson last week told young people at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville interested in going into the theater to "be prepared to cry a lot." She spoke before a crowd of 500 in Meridian Hall.

Miss Tyson, an Academy Award nominee for best actress in 1972 for her role in the movie

"Sounder," held an informal question-and-answer session followed by poetry reading. When asked about "the wave of black exploitative films," she said she is against them.

"These are films that have dealt with us unrealistically. I couldn't identify with the people in those films. They were all vacuous stereotypes and included all the negatives about us." Since she has been on a speaking tour, Miss Tyson said, she discovered she was "living in a capsule."

"I thought I knew what was going on, but I didn't." Miss Tyson said she found it hard to believe but true that some are still uneducated about black people. "I couldn't believe it when someone told me that they were stunned thing that there could be a real love relationship between a black man and a black woman."

When asked how she determines whether a role is right for her, she said, "When my skin tingles, I know it's the right part for me. When my stomach churns, then I know it's not right for me."

The only advice Miss Tyson gave to those interested in the theater was to "know your craft."

Media among targets of the Patty Hearst case—speaker

Newsweek journalist Shana Alexander posed the question—"Are we drowning in news?" in a speech last week at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

For the past ten years, Miss Alexander has written a column called "The Feminine Eye." She started the column while working for Life magazine and has continued it for Newsweek.

"The first article I wrote as the feminine eye was a story on Jacqueline Kennedy, and the last one was written last week about the Patty Hearst case for Newsweek," Miss Alexander said.

Miss Alexander pointed to several instances in the Hearst case which show that "we as Americans are all looking through the eye of a hurricane."

She cited the Hearst case as the "first strictly political kidnapping in the United States," and said, "I don't see it (Hearst case) through one eye, but I can easily see it through 15 eyes."

Miss Alexander, who is beginning work on a book on the Hearst case, said she could see the event as a uniquely California event, as an historical event, a violent event, as a paranoid, criminal, political, sexual, technological, rhetorical and media event.

"I think there is something dangerous here," Miss Alexander said, "because the Hearst case shows the politics and pathology in America now, and how some groups use it as justification for these pathological, insane acts."

The Hearst case was a media coup d'etat, "according to Miss Alexander. "There was no investigative reporting here. The reporters got pulled into the event and asked themselves, 'Is it the people's right to know or a girl's right to live?'"

In the closing moments of her talk, Miss Alexander asked another question: "Who is the prisoner of whom? The only events now are current events, and when events become too current or too immediate, they come to seem unreal."

Miss Alexander's visit to SIUE was sponsored by the University Center Board, and was the fifth lecture in a series entitled "Issues in Journalism and Politics."

"I would not encourage anyone to go into the theater, but I would not discourage them from trying, either," she said.

Miss Tyson's visit to SIUE was sponsored by the University Center in conjunction with last week's special programs for women.

Burke-Davis betrothal

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Amy Lynn Davis and Robert Burke are being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis of Highlandville, Mo., former residents of the Mitchell area.

Miss Davis is a graduate of Spokane High School in Highlandville.

Her fiancé was graduated from Lebanon (Mo.) High School. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart "Bill" Burke of Lebanon, Mo.

Both young people will start their sophomore year at Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar, Mo., this fall.

Plans are being completed for a wedding in August.

Bethel 43 mothers enroll 2 members

Mrs. Norma Vail and Mrs. Betty Miller were welcomed as new members of the Mothers Club of Job's Daughters, Bethel 43, at a meeting last week at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Aline Graham presided and Mrs. Sandy Simpson reviewed events at a previous business session. The group set its next meeting for May 23 at 6:30 p.m.

Others attending were Dorothy Brokaw, Pat Burke, Mary Church, Louise Jones, Shirley Lane, Bonnie Maritt, Ruth Smith, Lucille Sackett and Betty Girtz.

Evening of opera

An evening of opera will be presented Friday, May 3, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by students of voice at SIUE.

Directed by Sarah Travers Turner, the program will begin at 8:15 in Lovejoy Library auditorium. The public is invited, admission free.

Operas to be presented are Riders to the Sea by R. Vaughan Williams and Act II from Puccini's La Bohème.

In Riders to the Sea, Nancy Helmich of Marine plays Maurya, an old woman. Steve Crist, Ashland, O., plays her son, Bartley, and Paula Flemons, East St. Louis, and Deborah Milton, Granite City, her daughters.

"A woman" is portrayed by Brenda Warren, St. Louis. Villagers include Judy Blase and Ellen O'Brien, Caseyville; Janet Hughes, Ballwin, Mo.; Lois Larson, Wood River; and Deborah Hightower, Granite City.

Miss Hightower sings the part of Musetta in La Bohème. Miss Flemons, the part of Mimì.

David Lanphere, Alton, portrays Rudolpho; Kevin Koonitz, Belleville, Marcello; Roger Beale, Mascoutah, Schaunard; and Steve Crist, Alcindoro.

Members of the La Bohème chorus include Miss Helmich, Miss Milton, Miss O'Brien, Miss Warren, Miss Lurton, Miss Blase, Miss Hughes and Jane Larson, Mascoutah.

John Gross, a member of the SIUE music staff, and Jan Jorde, an undergraduate from Carlin, N. D., will assist at the piano.

Auxiliary sends gifts to boys

Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51 has resumed sending birthday gifts to boys living at the Peaceful Valley Youth Ranch, near Carlinville, Mrs. Jackie Petras, project chairman, announced at last week's auxiliary meeting.

Mrs. Charlotte Damal, president, was in charge of the business session held at the Post 51 Clubhouse, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Reports were submitted by Mrs. Glenda Brockman, secretary, and Mrs. Jean Murphy, treasurer. Mrs. Betty Wilkins, chaplain, said six get well cards were mailed to members.

Volunteer service time is continuing to be donated by Mrs. Ann Tucker and Mrs. Irene Hoelter to the MIA-POW program at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, it was announced.

Mrs. Damal, who also serves as Amvets Auxiliary Division 5 president, reported plans to attend a May 5 meeting at Madison Post 204 to assist in reorganizing the post's auxiliary unit. Members voted to hold a business meeting on the second Wednesday of each month, starting in June, instead of the current semi-monthly sessions. Officers will be nominated and elected at the May meetings, it was announced.

Six women agreed to help serve tea to more than 500 youthful volunteers, who will solicit funds in a Muscular Dystrophy drive on May 5. The tea will be donated by The Nestle Co., Mrs. Damal said. Hostesses, Mrs. Etta Clements and Mrs. Marge Smith, served refreshments and awarded prizes to Mrs. Lorena Varner and Mrs. Brockman.

Conversion of Central School site to township and special education office center offers logical, economical solution to costly problem

Granite City Township and School District officials appear to have devised a sensible solution for a difficult problem—what to do with aged and abandoned Central Junior High School.

Unheated during the past winter, the structure is rapidly deteriorating. The cost of further remodeling has become prohibitive, nor will the task of dismantling it be inexpensive, either.

District Nine would convey the building and lot to the township, which would assume the estimated $30,000 cost of demolishing and removing the brick and wood structure.

The township would utilize the Downtown area location to erect a town office building, 2,000 square feet of which could be used rent-free for five years as the headquarters of the Quad-City Special Education District.

This would enable the present special education offices on Madison Avenue to be discontinued, saving the Granite City, Madison and Venice school systems a total of $33,000 during the five-year period.

Federal revenue sharing funds are to be used to construct the new Town Hall.

Central was costly to the district, requiring $65,000 in repairs during the last three years it was used as a school, ending last June.

Taxpayers stand to benefit to the tune of $63,000—counting the razing cost and special education rent—while also seeing an end to any need for further renovation spending.

Regardless of what the future may hold, the new structure could benefit the public for many years by housing the Quad-City Special Education District and by serving as a useful center for township, school and perhaps even city purposes; it is located only about 200 feet from City Hall.

Crackdown in order on use of radio to avoid enforcement of speed law

Springfield Bureau — Announcement that Illinois State Police will begin an organized crackdown on those violating the state's new 55 m.p.h. speed limit is appropriate.

Some truck drivers allegedly are using two-way radios to breed the speed limit and conspire with others to assist them in disobeying the law.

Speed limits aren't a game played between the citizen, on the one hand, and the law, on the other. They are serious business, designed to save energy and save lives.

The President sought state laws to put the speed limit at 55 and the state legislature approved the law. Gov. Daniel Walker signed it.

The President and the governor must the law for everybody — ordinary car driver as well as truck driver.

It has become clear that unless some action is taken against trucks the average motorist will lose respect for speed enforcement and will be more inclined than ever to totally disregard the 55 limit.

As frequent highway travelers report, the lower speed limit is already close to becoming ineffective.

In fairness to state police, their efforts to enforce the limit for trucks, actually already at 55 before the overall speed limit was enacted, has been made difficult by a unique situation.

This is the widespread use by truck drivers of citizen band radios. These enable drivers to communicate among themselves, to quickly spot police cars and other law enforcement units.

Thus, drivers approaching an area under surveillance are warned to slow down to 55.

Once past the enforcement zone, the higher speed is promptly resumed.

Citizen radios have long been used by truckers to check on police patrols, and the use of them increased rapidly during the recent truckers' strike when vehicles were directed to blockade points.

The time has come to do something about them. They cannot be permitted to be used to block the enforcement of speed laws, needed by the nation in the continuing gasoline shortage problem and honored by thousands of ordinary motorists.

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, whose office has the responsibility of enforcing truckers' compliance with state registration laws, has formally asked Atty. Gen. William Scott to look into what Howlett has called improper use of citizen band radios.

Scott should waste no time in carrying out Howlett's request. He would do well, too, as Howlett advises, to check with the Federal Communications Commission.

Howlett suggests that use of radios to evade Illinois law may well constitute "an improper use of a licensed communications media."

It is the increasing use of airplanes and radar-equipped cars, state police may still be unable to effectively enforce the 55 limit if truckers continue to utilize their radios.

If the speed limit law cannot be enforced for trucks, it will be disregarded by autists and become useless as a means of conserving gasoline and lives.

Political cooperation but not control

To the Editor:
Now that the elections are over, and the people have spoken, we are all getting down to the business of it with a few remarks are in order.

In a letter to the editor appearing in the April 8 issue, reference was made to the Madison School Board and its alleged control by politicians.

That can be taken with a grain of salt because anyone holding or running for an office, together with those who hold an appointed office or job, are called politicians.

We of the Madison School District feel that our record speaks for itself.

The public can see that the latest school tax rate for Madison is $2.94 as compared to $3.91, the highest in the county.

Our bonded debt is less than three per cent of the assessed valuation.

Both these figures are among the lowest in the county and it has been over 40 years since we have issued a tax anticipation warrant (the last was during the great depression).

We welcome help and assistance from the Madison city officials, for we all serve the same people.

We will continue to cooperate with them, as we are all working toward a common goal—the best possible education for our children, consistent with sound fiscal administration.

If, as the April 8 writer stated, control by politicians, so be it.

Worry about worry

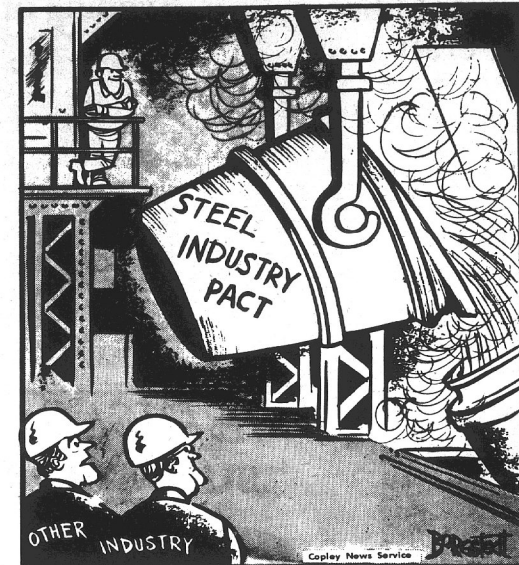

A public opinion poll endeavors to find out what people worry about most. Of course, a lot of people worry most about the public opinion polls.

Chuckie

A 7-year-old kid told his folks he was going to run away — just as soon as there's a definite upward trend in the economy.

A crinch?

Someone who is unsure of the difference between a crisis, a pinch and a crunch, suggest that the all-inclusive term "crinch" be used.

It won't cost $1 a loaf this year, but then man doesn't live by bread alone, anyway

(Illinois Farm Bureau Commodities Division)

There is still much confusion over the impact of the energy crisis in the economy. Some analysts predict a full-scale recession. Others see relatively little impact, or feel that the major effects may already have been felt.

It is apparent that governmental spending and deficits will be at a high level and that strong inflationary pressures will be in the economy, even though technically we may be in what is called a recession.

Wages and other demands by labor unions indicate that labor settlements are likely to exceed those of the last couple of years when wage-price controls and guidelines were in effect.

The net result is likely to be increased unemployment, greater government spending on relief and welfare programs such as food stamp programs, and increased Social Security benefits—at the same time, a continued expansion in the consumer disposable income.

Consumer prices in 1973 moved up faster than income with the result that U.S. consumers had lower real income this year, or at best only a slight real income increase.

It would appear that even though gross income may be up more in 1974, prices may rise at least as much—with a possible further reduction in real income this year, or at best only a slight real income increase.

Agricultural exports have remained at relatively high levels even though weather and crop conditions have improved in Russia, India, Africa and other major exporting areas. Some of the recent sales can be attributed to "filling the pipeline" and fear of imposition of export controls by the U.S.

If 1974 crops of wheat, corn and soybeans appear to be ample some of the pressure on foreign countries to stockpile will be reduced.

However, many countries around the world are attempting to upgrade diets and levels of living and the export market for feed grains, soybeans and wheat is expected to remain strong.

In general, exports as measured by the value of goods shipped are expected to be off some from highs of recent years.

While much is being said or written about the fertilizer shortage and its possible impact on crop production, weather is still likely to be the greatest uncertainty during the coming crop year.

Corn—There will be a substantial increase in corn acreage; a 10 per cent increase is anticipated at this time. The U.S. Department of Agriculture trend yield is 97 bushels per acre.

If this yield is attained, the result will be a crop that is large in relation to both domestic and foreign demand and corn prices would probably drop below $2 per bushel at harvest time.

Most analysts feel that everything, including weather during the growing season and fertilization, has to be just right to reach the trend yield of 97 bushels per acre.

Many feel that we will do well to maintain last year's 92 bushels per acre average yield. Usage of corn during the 1973-

74 marketing year will be slightly greater than production, so carryover stocks will be slightly reduced; 1974 production should be ample to cover domestic uses and exports, and to replenish carryover stocks.

December corn prices have already declined nearly 80 cents from the season's high. There will be only modest declines in price from present levels unless production is much greater than is now expected.

Soybeans—Acreage planted to soybeans will be lower this year than in 1973. The exact amount will depend on how much switching there is from corn and cotton at the last minute because of fertilizer or weather problems.

Again, with average or better weather, production is expected to exceed use or exports and carryovers will increase. This will bring lower prices—perhaps as low as $4.50 to $4.75 per bushel.

Wheat—New wheat production is now arriving on the market and it is clear that the scare talk by the baker representatives about $1 bread was just a "scare."

There has been a dramatic drop in wheat prices during the last month. Reserves, however, at home and abroad are at low levels and demand is expected to stay strong for at least another year.

Prices will continue to work downward as stocks begin to accumulate.

Those who were saying that bread prices were going to $1 a loaf because of increased wheat prices should be called on to explain why bread prices have not dropped commensurate with the substantial drop in the price of wheat.

Beef cattle—Some increase is expected in cattle prices during the next three months. This will result from lower supplies of fed cattle and increased demand for the summer cookout season.

Placements in feed lots—the cattle to be grown for future beef supply—are running about 12 per cent below last year.

The reduced placements are in part offset by the fact that cattle are being fed to heavier weights, and that time in the feedlot has been shortened by starting with heavier calves.

Prices may reach $46 to $48 per hundred pounds, but the increase is due to market consumer resistance and the general slackening of consumer demand.

More beef will be coming in as imports and this will tend to temper anticipated price increases this summer.

Feeder cattle prices have dropped and feed will be plentiful and somewhat lower priced. Placements in feedlots should pick up compared with present levels.

Therefore, beef production should be slightly higher and prices slightly lower in the fourth quarter of 1974 and early 1975 than the 1974 summertime highs.

Hogs—Supplies are likely to be about as large as last year for the next month or so. Slaughter numbers and weights have been up recently and prices have declined.

There should be an increase in hog prices late in May, June and July, with prices moving up to $36 to $38 per hundred pounds. One of the reasons is that the relatively high corn prices encouraged many producers to sell their corn instead of feeding it to hogs.

Farrows this spring may be about the same or down slightly, there will be only a modest drop in price in the fall and winter of 1974.

The pork market will be affected by the generally reduced consumer demand for meat. Likewise, increases in beef prices will tend to support higher hog prices.

Poultry—There is some increase programmed for both broiler and turkey production. Relatively high feed costs may limit the expansion. Conversely, cheaper feed later in the year may result in further expansion in late 1974 or early 1975.

In general, there should be a more plentiful supply of broilers and turkeys at slightly lower prices. Some of these are already showing up as specials in retail food stores.

Dairy—Milk prices increased dramatically during 1973. Milk production continues to decline compared to a year earlier. In part, this represents fewer cows, but production per cow was also lower for the first time in years.

Lower feed costs will tend to make dairymore profitable and higher milk prices will be required to encourage needed production.

Therefore, it is anticipated that milk prices will increase further in 1974; the increase will not be as large as that experienced in 1973.

Dairy product prices, such as cheese and ice cream, moved up rapidly in 1973. Price increases in these products will be more gradual in 1974.

Food prices—If the above forecasts are correct, the prices of higher milk prices will be increased, especially meat, should increase in the next few months—first beef, and then pork.

Milk prices will also move upward.

Fresh vegetables and fruits should have a seasonal reduction in price as new supplies come on the market. Potatoes and onions will continue to be relatively high in price until later this summer or fall.

Canned and frozen vegetables can be expected to be higher in price later in the year, since stocks are relatively low and new production contracts are going out to producers at much higher prices.

Some cereal-based products, such as bread, should work downward in price as lower grain prices are reflected in finished product prices.

It is anticipated that the major raw product costs of products included in the market basket may not increase as much as expected in 1974. In fact, there may be some declines later in the year.

But marketing margins will continue to increase as a result of fuel, transportation, labor and other cost increases. There also some residual pressure on price margins as a result of past price controls and ceilings.

In total the cost of this market basket can be expected to move upward eight to ten per cent this year.

Plans no diversion of National Guard

To the Editor:

Li. In Neil Hartigan has suggested that National Guardsmen who are skilled and semi-skilled tradesmen in private life be diverted to their regular guard positions and be required to work on repair and rehabilitation jobs at the State Fair on weekends and during their annual two-week training duty period.

This proposal violates principles I believe in strongly. So long as I am governor, the National Guard will not be diverted from its military and disaster missions.

Guardsmen will not be used as forced labor to displace skilled tradesmen such as carpenters, painters, bricklayers and laborers who work to support their families. Repair, building and renovation work—and we have a program for that work—should be done by the skilled and semi-skilled workers who are trained for those jobs.

We welcome the support of the lieutenant governor in obtaining passage by the General Assembly of the necessary appropriations to implement those programs. Those appropriations are detailed in the budget proposals presented to the General Assembly March 6.

Sex discrimination in haircut price?

To the Editor:

Once again women are being discriminated against.

First of all, we are not women's libbers but we do not believe in sex discrimination. It has been discovered that a local barber shop is raising the price of women's haircuts to $10 because of the cost of the men's haircuts is going to remain the same, $7.50. Why is that?

What's the difference? Hair is hair and fair is fair. With the hair styles of most men nowadays, who can tell the difference?

Why should women be overcharged just because they are women?

DISCOURAGED PATRON

Illinoisans worried about food prices, blame government

Leo J. Shapiro and Associates

The basic attitude of Illinois people toward farmers has not changed in the three years when statistics have been taken—April 1972, April 1973 and March 1974. However, there have been changes in the public's attitude toward farmers.

There have been changes in what can and should be done about them.

Farmers are a highly respected group. Over eight in ten (85 per cent) say they feel that they think about the farmer. No calling could rank much above the farmer in the public favor.

People appreciate the hard work and the risk that the farmer takes, and they understand how essential farm output is to mankind's survival.

The high regard for farmers is expressed by a public that is optimistic, pessimistic, unable to escape from pressures, and experiencing belt tightening and confinement in their homes because of the gasoline shortage.

Public confidence in government is basically eroded. Big business is not seen as sufficiently interested in or concerned about public welfare.

In late 1973, the continued and continuous pressure on people brought about a change in public attitude of the sort that one must expect to see in a pioneering nation that had hit its last frontier.

Namely, there was a change in the public's attitude toward farmers. People who expected hard times ahead, but did not really feel they would be generally "done in" by a people who not only expected hard times ahead but expected that we would be worse off.

There are changes in public attitudes toward specific problems that need to be solved. Not necessarily in order of their seriousness or difficulty, here are the problems that emerged from a study of the statistics:

1. Compared to earlier studies (1972, 1973) concern with prices in Illinois has increased.

2. The public's concern with food prices has shifted from a sharp focus on meat to cover virtually all foods.

3. In 1974 consumers are less inclined to favor price freezes on consumer boycotts.

4. The number of people who see restrictions on exports as a remedy for the food problem has increased.

5. Blame for higher prices has shifted heavily toward the government, stayed stable for the middleman, and decreased for unions. The proportion blaming the farmer did increase slightly but is still expressed by well under one in ten people.

6. A growing number of people, though still not a substantial proportion, see the farmer benefiting economically from higher food prices, but the number of four are opposed to reducing the profits of farmers.

Pollution control needed, but so is market growth, seminar told

The American economic system fosters environmental degradation, but too little pollution is just as much a waste as too much, and the nation's economic growth should not be restricted.

These were the conclusions reached last week by Robert Kohn, associate professor of economics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, at the eighth session of the University Seminar at Edwardsville (USE).

Jane Brauer of Fairview Heights, USE presidential scholar representing the SIUE School of Business, assisted Kohn with his presentation and made a strong personal plea for a government environmental control board to control pollution.

Kohn agrees that more government regulation, along the lines established by the Air Pollution Control Act of 1970, is needed.

But Kohn believes the expansion and growth of markets is desirable, and he contends that "substitution" will keep the nation from completely depleting its natural resources.

Kohn explains that "substitution" is the system of substituting less harmful goods for goods that are polluting the environment or depleting natural resources.

Kohn also believes it is feasible and practical from a cost standpoint to use abatement procedures to reduce pollution. However, he emphasized it is not practical from a cost standpoint to eliminate all pollution.

Miss Brauer, who is a senior majoring in mathematics, cited the high costs of pollution and asserted that "all technological measures available should be used to control pollution, regardless of cost."

"By 1975, there will be 16 nuclear power plants on the Great Lakes, with a discharge of hot water exceeding the flow of the Mississippi River at its mouth," Miss Brauer warned.

Citing another example of the consequences of uncontrolled pollution, Miss Brauer said, "Unless it is stopped, pollution will kill all life in the Baltic Sea within a generation."

"Man's economic activity not only is contaminating natural resources, but depleting them as well," Miss Brauer said. She pointed to strip mining as an example as she asserted that 4,650 acres of land a week are being "plundered" by this activity.

Kohn illustrated his talk with "a simple economic model," using charts and diagrams, of the consequences of gasoline to explain his theories of "allocation" and "economic efficiency" by placing values on goods such as the bread and gasoline and trading them back and forth between two persons.

He pointed to the effect that pollution abatement costs would have on the market place, indicating his theory that non-polluting and non-depleting goods would be substituted.

Making specific suggestions for ways that an environmental control board could conserve resources, Miss Brauer suggested a ban on the use of aluminum cans and non-returnable bottles. She said the pollution caused by shipping freight by trucks is six times as great as shipping by railroads, and she suggested limiting the amount of shipping by trucks. She also proposed a limit on the production of synthetic goods, which she charged are a major source of pollution.

In conclusion, Kohn said, "It's quite clear that pollution and environmental degradation are a result of economic activity, which means there are powerful business interests that have something to lose when we start to have abatement and controls. For this reason, it is important for citizens to be active and involved in the process of environmental control."

The ninth session of USE, scheduled Tuesday, May 14, will feature the SIUE School of Science and Technology in a joint presentation entitled, "Why Save Natural Ecosystems?" and "Energy: The Fundamental Currency." The speakers will be Richard Keating, associate professor of physical sciences, and Ronald Bruno, assistant professor of physics.

A USE summary session will conclude the series on Tuesday, June 4.

Declares 'Better Hearing' month

Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed May as "Better Hearing Month" in the Granite City. To recognize the continuing effort of the Better Hearing Institute and The Illinois Hearing Aid Association to inform the public about hearing loss.

In his message, Mayor Schuler called attention to the hearing loss that has surrounded hearing loss for too many years.

Clarence McCoy of Bellone Hearing Aid Service told Mayor Schuler that the importance of the hearing help now available to those suffering from uncorrected hearing problems cannot be over-emphasized.

"Greatly improved medical, surgical and amplification help is available today," McCoy said, "and this is why our public education campaign is so important. If each person becomes better informed and understanding, great inroads can also be made against the social misunderstanding which too often prevails. We are grateful to Mayor Schuler for lending the weight of his endorsement to our campaign."

Stores will expand consumer education

"Consumer attitudes are mixed toward government intervention in pricing procedures, more positive in the belief that greater effort should be made to reduce prices, and generally in agreement that rising prices threaten their economic security," said Hugh E. Muncy, president, Illinois Retail Merchants Association, in announced results of a consumer attitude study by the association.

The results show that widespread among shoppers interviewed was a misconception that retailers earn an average of 26 cents on a sales dollar, when in fact retail net profits range from 1.2 to 5.6 cent of sales volume, Muncy said.

The survey was conducted for IRMA to determine consumer attitudes on government intervention into business, retail profits, and personal spending habits.

When asked which segment of the economy was to blame for rising prices, respondents tended to put the blame on that segment farthest removed from their occupations, noted Muncy. Professionals cited labor as the cause of rising prices; laborers looked to government. Housewives first blamed manufacturers, next politicians; government, unions and retailers equally shared third place.

Sixty-five per cent of the survey participants believe a greater portion of the family income goes for food today than ten years ago. But 10 years ago, 14.9 per cent of the family income went for food and today the percentage is 12.1, Muncy said.

"Shoppers appear to be constantly aware of price increases but quickly forget income increases. Sixty-two per cent of the respondents believe during the past year prices have gone up more than family income. National figures show that while prices did rise 8.4 per cent last year, income went up to a greater extent, 10.1 per cent," Muncy said.

"Misconceptions and misunderstandings pointed up through this survey indicate a need for broader economic education."

Muncy urged all merchants to take an active role in remedying misconceptions on profits and the role retailing plays in the full economy.

Survey results were announced at IRMA's 1974 annual meeting last week in Chicago. A statewide program to improve economic understanding is to be sponsored by IRMA as part of its member service activities during the current year.

The Illinois Retail Merchants Association is the only statewide organization exclusively serving all phases of retailing.

GC Steel workers complete course

Jim Grabtree, maintenance supervisor and Larry Voss, maintenance foreman, with Granite City Steel, have completed a one-week course in industrial hydraulic technology, conducted by the Power & Controls Group of Parker-Hannifin Corp. at their Cleveland headquarters training center. Voss lives at 28 Wilson Park Drive and Crabtree resides at 227 Sand Road, Edwardsville.

The course was one of a series offered by Parker to qualified persons engaged in the application of fluid power components. A certificate is awarded for successful completion of each course.

Parker-Hannifin is the world's largest manufacturer of components and assemblies for hydraulic, pneumatic, refrigeration, air conditioning, fuel-handling and other fluid systems.

Study need of sewer rate boost

Assurances that the East Side Levee and Sanitary District is revising administrative policies and upgrading its treatment facilities to justify an increase in sewage treatment fees were given at a meeting of mayors and township officials in Madison Fire Hall Thursday night by levee district officials.

Jack Scoville, president of the levee board, and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, levee district trustee, explained the need of a higher rate caused by increased operating costs and additional requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The meeting was called after Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison called for an explanation of factors involved in a 40-cent monthly increase in sewage treatment rates paid by Madison residents. The levee district's Lansdowne sewage treatment plant serves Madison and Venice households.

Attending the meeting were representatives of National City, Capteen Township, Venice and the Horner & Shiffrin engineering firm which serves as consultant for the levee district.

The sewage treatment rate for average residential properties has been increased by the levee district from $1.15 per month to $1.55 per month.

STREAKERS REPORTED

Granite City police were informed at 12:30 a.m. Friday that streakers were seen without clothing in the 2600 block of Circle Drive. Officers were sent to locate the persons involved.

New GC traffic controls

A series of traffic control ordinances, including 25-mile-per-hour speed zones on three streets in the West Granite area, have been approved by the Granite City Council.

The speed limits of 25 miles per hour were established on West 22nd Street from Rock Road to FA Route 151; Harding Avenue from Jefferson to FA Route 151, and on Roosevelt Avenue from Jefferson to FA Route 151.

An ordinance establishing a traffic stop on Cottage Avenue at Terrace lane, requiring eastbound traffic on Cottage to stop at Terrace Lane, also was approved.

Another ordinance repeals the yield signs at Spring and Prairie avenues and establishes a four-way stop at that intersection.

MECHANICALLY INCLINED?
Possibly you had considered engineering at one point, but were unable to pursue that goal. If you are curious about mechanical and/or electrical devices and enjoy working with them and analyzing their functions, a challenging and interesting career may be available to you as a Technical Writer. Applicants for positions in our Publications Department must have completed two years education beyond high school and must be able to read mechanical blueprints and electrical power source diagrams. You must be able to analyze our products and communicate your knowledge to customers through written set up, service, and repair manuals. We will offer you a comprehensive benefit program and a starting salary commensurate with your background and ability. Further opportunity will be based on your performance. For immediate consideration, send a confidential resume including your background and salary requirements to:

When you get out of high school, how many jobs do you think you'll have a chance for?

How does 300-plus sound to you?

In the new Navy, if you qualify, you can get one of more than 300 important, skilled jobs. From computer technology and electronics to machinery repair and aviation mechanics. It's the job a guy can build a life-long career on, in the Navy or out.

But there are more reasons to join the Navy. Like travel. And money. More than $340 a month after just four months, plus food, housing and medical care. There's a new three-year enlistment, a join now, report-up-to-six-months later program and a Naval Reserve two-year active duty plan.

If the Navy sounds like someone you'd like to be when you graduate, come on in.

Find out how you can be someone special in The New Navy.

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of OPAL BRUNCH who passed away April 30, 1964. The depths of sorrow we cannot tell. Of the loss of one we loved so well.

And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep Her memory we shall always keep.

Sadly missed by - HUSBAND AND CHILDREN 33 4 29

31 In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of JULIA CHOMKO, April 29, 1907. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break but all in vain.

To have, to love, and then to part Is the greatest sorrow of one's life. The years may wipe out many things, But this they wipe out never - The memory of those happy days.

When we were all together. Sadly missed by - FAMILY AND FRIENDS 33 4 29

In loving memory of HARVEY BARK who passed away April 30, 1941.

His smiling face and pleasant voice Are a pleasure to recall; He had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all.

Some day we hope to meet him, Someday we know not when. To clasp his hand in better lands, Never to part again.

Sadly missed by - HIS CHILDREN, GRANDCHILDREN and All Who Loved Him 33 4 29

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards:
We guarantee all Grantmaster tires against failure from all normal road hazards for the life of the tread with the exception of primary nail punctures. The tread, tread and sidewall alignment, under-inflation, over-inflation and running flat.

2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects:
We guarantee the Grantmaster tires against all defects of material and workmanship for the life of the tread. Basis of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of this Guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a proportionate allowance for the reduced tread, based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.

3. Guarantee Against Tread Wear:
The original tread is guaranteed not to wear out for the number of months designated. If tread wears out during this period, the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax was the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

Tire Guarantee	Allowance
18-22 Months	15%
23-40 Months	25%

The guarantee covers tires on passenger car service only. Passenger car tires used in commercial service reduce the guarantee period by 50%.
